Look who I found posting on a Renegade torrent (torrent=type of p2p I use aswell):

Crimson: Sorry, I had to remove this link because you said his website name in the comments. Plus this software is illegal.

*NOTE the name who posted the comments (I'm TrueTroop)!

It was uploaded by "annonymous", I think we can all geuss who that could be

Anyway, by his comments he seems to be a smart torrenter, any comments?

So? The game's $5, and it could very well keep Renegade alive. I don't agree with it necessarily, but meh.

I'm pretty sure people have been saying that for a while. I do think there will be a point where it'll slide a lot, but it won't be dead for a long time.

People cannot play online with a serial generator anyway, as far as i'm aware. So this ain't very useful.

Donno why it would be a bad thing anyway? It's just illegal...
