This is what happens when I try to dl CP1 via RenGuard. It looks kinda odd because it looks like this is a place that used to host CP1, but you can see the domain has been taken over for some reason(try going to fanmaps.net).
Any help would be greatly appreciated!

I can't find any references to fanmaps.net anymore. What are you doing exactly, are you using a proxy?

Try again - I think that should work.

Go to "options" in the RenGuard menu and enable the option: "Disable Core Patches.

Now manually download the CP1:

Thank you, that worked.

o_O I wonder why it was doing that though...

Mac, I wasn't using a proxy, it just was doing that whenever I tried to install CP1. I wasn't doing anything besides that. Kinda odd. And then the next day, it just crashed after it started to try to dl patchw.zip.
