I know alot of you have gamed with Hazteam before and since you are all part of the family of Renegade gamers i feel you should probably know this as well. One of our beloved members has tradgically fallen ill as of late and we (at Hazteam) are slightly shocked by this. This gamer is the embodiment of everything that a gamer should be. Fair, fun loving and a pleasure to play with. Her name is Gunny one of the longtime members of Hazteam and indeed the renegade family.

For those of you who do know Gunny and would like to share your good will and get well messages please do so on HT forums. This is a tradgic time and hopefully our combined prayers can do something to help her.

<http://www.hazteam.net/forums/index.php?showtopic=5542&s t=0>

Thank you all,
James

I never knew Gunny was female. What sickness does she have?

All she told us is that it is a cancer that is attacking her nervous system. If you guys want to actually wish her better you can do so on the HT forums. the link is provided. Thanks.

She has spinal / brain cancer.

Gunny -- If you happen to make it to this thread, I have words of encouragement for you. A man I know well was diagnosed with a very aggressive cancerous tumor in his occipital lobe. He had been experiencing severe headaches, and occasionally his vision would get dark and foggy. The doctors expected him to become blind within just a few weeks, and only gave him several months to live. That was almost 2 years ago now, he is now in remission, and has the same vision he had before it all started.

For a while there, it didn't look like he had much of a chance of survival, he was extremely sick from the chemo, and the effects of the tumor were terrible, he had slurred speech, and poor mobility due to the pressure of the tumor on the rest of his brain. They did a very risky operation to remove as much of the tumor as they could, and within a few weeks, he suddenly returned to normal, no traces of cancerous material in his brain anymore.

Miracles do happen, so pray every day, and never EVER give up. Fight the cancer right to the bitter end of it!

- Russ

Social skills, boys...

More on topic, I wish her all the best in her fight against cancer.

I've seen her in the Black-Cell forums once or twice. I almost never go there though. Anyways, I wish her the best.

So instead of editing my posts and leaving the goodwill that was in them, they get deleted and that Apache kid keeps his off-topic crap in here as well?

I deleted them. That post was so insensitive and rude. I couldn't believe what large balls you had to post something so horrible.

I suppose I'll repost mine. My last post was trying to take away the argument.

I'll be praying for her.

I've sent an email to Gunny regarding a possible community donation fund. As soon as I hear back from her, I will let you guys know what is happening, and how to donate.

I'll get the ball rolling with a $50.00 cnd donation as soon as we get a paypal account setup for her, or something similar.

It wasn't a matter of balls. I simply had a difference of opinion that I wasn't able to express at their forums, since anytime there's a difference of opinion; you're banned. Of course, I could have been like WSE and the rest of the clowns by wishing death upon someone that wronged me in the past, over the Internet. I do sincerely wish that she gets better, nobody should have to endure pain like that.

But why is a thread about her medical problems an appropriate place to express your dislike of someone? If someone posted that someone I didn't like was dying or very ill, I would have simply NOT responded to it.

Because even if I don't like her, it doesn't stop me from wishing her well in life.

But you said MORE than that. You said "I feel sorry Gunny is sick" then went off on a short tirade about how she acts in game. I and many others will agree that it was inappropriate and irrelevant.

What's really interesting here is you doing exactly what you deleted my posts for: Inappropriate actions in a thread about someone's illness. You can complain about me, but God forbid I do the same about someone else, lest actually wish them well at the same time.

haha well,well.maybe ACK is 2 much into Renegade which is why he seems to talk alot about it even tho it may seem inappropriate in such a topic.well dun get me wrong.im not sayin his post was inappropriate.im just stayin neutral in this argument and i agree that we should stop bickering over such a trivial matter:)n his majority of the post is still on-topic so..stop arguin!peace:)

as for gunny,tho i may not know her at all.i can still sympathise with her gettin cancer as e pain a person has to go through is not what we can ever imagine since we are not experiencing the same illness as her. i pray she gets well too. and she'll if it's God's will=)

This thread is not for discussions of this type... Right now it's about Gunny.

Gunny, even though I don't really know you, I wish you much luck fighting against it. Don't let it rule you, you rule it. Fight against it and never stop! Show it that you can win.

Just never give up and say I'm lost, because if you don't give up, you have a lot of chance of winning from it.

I hope you get well soon!

wow what can i say but thanks to all of you here , an yes even you ack - first of all let me point out - i didnt ask for any finacial aid in anything - my mom left me a lil bundle when she died when i was 4 -

money is the least of my worries right now - i worry more about my dad as it seams he has taken this harder than me - he is a master gunnery sgt in the marines - in case ya'all didnt know - i know for a fact he has seen more of war an peace the anybody should - but i never seen him cry till now i have had my share of death and destruction in my life - lost my mom when i was 4 and lost my son when he was 4 ,, well fixin to turn 4 ...

now i rather just let this go and see my mom an son again - hopefully they are just as my memory is of them but i was not raised to give up - so here i am fightin as well as i can ..

back to point - especially to you ack - i didnt get to see the post you made as i didnt know this went this far till today .. for what ever you think i did wrong to you - i am sorry but then again not really as i know how you are now .. but either way your still a great gamer and fun to game with all this ren stuff is only one thing to me ... a game .. i will tick off anybody an everybody when i can only because it will throw them off - "mind games kinda" either way - i keep in mind - its only a game .. real life is far to tragic to ignore ..

so accept this as my public appologie for any wrongs you seam to think i have done .. real or mythical .. i could care less as i have more worries then if your ticked at me i aint flamin ya in any way shape or form . so dont take this that way ..please and for all the others here.... thanks and nuttin but ruv .. we WILL game again .. i believe that ..

to crimson .. we havent been formaly introduced but you have always been kewl to me

mac we havent talked too much but from what i gathered - your a nice feller and thanks for any an all help in anything i know i am missing a whole bunch here .. but i dont wanna drag this on so to all , thanks again

GL is all I can say. i think you have a strong belief that life isn't the end and that's a positive view, however it doesn't mean we shouldn't try to get all out of life we can get.

I never iknew you but as you are part of the community: GL!

Yeah, keep going, don't give up. You can get through this and get all better. Just keep believing in yourself. I'm believing in you and I know you won't give up.
