I need someone who can make windows installers and can build SSCP2 for windows (using something like InstallShield, Windows Installer, Nullsoft Installer or whatever else).

why not use Install Maker Pro?

Its pretty easy, even I can operate it.

What should the installer do (except install the files)?Any registry keys etc?

Nullsoft is open-source, isn't it?

In the end I used Nullsoft Installer to build the installers.

As soon as someone with access moves the files into place, I should be able to make a release announcement about Core Patch 2 Release Candidate 1. (which will be available for everyone to download) If bugs are found, a Release Candidate 2 or Release Candidate 3 might be released otherwise Release Candidate 1 will be "blessed" as official CP2.
