I would like to personally thank Crimson for banning me from renegade, Ever since Xwis came and made crap of my favorite game i have been meaning to buy a new game. This finally gives me the encentive to go out and buy one. I also want to say this, If you ban me because of a bot, then ban the person i spammed from having a bot also. And crimson, if thats all the nicks you have for me then your logging is crap here are all of them:

Not really, by playing renegade ever since the demo, being MVP in almost every game i play. I dont think that makes me a n00b. N00bs are the ones that think that if you dont have RG and get a headshot then you cheat. That's a n00b. and that is why RenGuard has ruined renegade and made it a horrible place to play.

oh and genetix, did you really have to quote what i said... it was the only post in the topic and your the second one, i think that people would know what your talking about. way to waste room.

Renguard saved the game from all the cheats you supported. I'll keep it at supported because I know thats all you did.

You are a n00b and you are the one who contributed to renegade dying faster.

Lmao the cheats that i supported? go to any server, and search their logs. I have never been banned once in my entire renegade career, nor did i plan to. I am a mod of several renegade servers that contributed in the banment of Cheaters. So how about this genetix, before you start talking about something that you have no clue about, dont talk. Do some research please and stop making yourself sound like a damn fool. Only reason i was banned is because i spammed a Bot that was in the Xwis lobby, lets see thats not allowed in the first place. In no way shape or form was i banned from renegade for cheats. Please do research, i hate it when n00bs like you pretend to know what your talking about.

First off, according to the screen shot I saw, it looks like you decline spammed a server. If you believe otherwise, you are more than welcome to submit your evidence to us. However, if you decide to go vigilante and flood them, then I have no sympathy for you and you will be banned for exploiting the XWIS software.

I only listed the nicknames that you logged into with the IP you were using when you flooded them. If I dig deeper I can in fact find more. However, I couldn't care less about those insults because it's not even MY software -- it's a web interface provided to BHS by Strike Team in order to do what needs to be done.

In short, grow up and take your punishment like a man because you failed to deal with your problems in a mature and responsible manner. Renegade will not miss the likes of you.

Crimson i did not spam a server i spammed a BOT that was on xwis. using the socket i can clearly tell the difference between a bot and a server. a bot has a shorter listing in the list 12 12 command and also shows no Server topic or Current Map. Take a look for yourself, XphzBot is not a server. Id give proof but i cannot get on to obtain the proof.

Just another dipshit who swept in, posted a few times on the forums, and ran off. Then again, my memory isn't what it used to be, so I could be wrong. That's because "I've been around since the release/demo/beta" is just a lame excuse that dipshits love to use when they do something retarded and ruin their integrity. It never works because those of us who actually HAVE been around that long just don't give a flying fuck.

Dear Crimson,

Hello. You may not know me. And I may not know you. I do know a certain Snip though. As a fellow operator at a server he is an operator at, I was shocked to learn that he was banned from renegade. I knew he would never cheat, as the guy I know would never ever cheat. He is one of the most respected players I know. So when he told me that he was banned for spamming a bot, when bots are banned from even showing up, I thought it was very weird.

I also find it weird that most of you people here consider renguard to be the greatest thing since sliced bread. Do you realize that we have seen people get around renguard? And what about the many glitches that program has? Do you realize that I know people who have had to re install everything on their machine because of renguard suddenly not allowing them to play? Not only that, but when I was even able to get renguard to work, it DIDNT WORK. It would always say "pujols005 is not running renguard" when i had the damn screen up there and was logged into renguard. I feel that many of you place way too much stock on how good renguard is. It does its job some of the time, but it is very unreliable.

I finish with this: renegade is, sadly, dying. XWIS hasnt been that bad, when you discount that the clan page wasnt up for an age and a half. But I have noticed that it has mostly been good, honest players being booted lately from the game as n00bs take it over completely. I, for one, am tired of renguard continuing to be praised and of great players and people being booted. Snip should be allowed to come back. He made a mistake, but who doesnt? And also, bots are banned in the first place. Where was Crimson when the bot got on?

And to all the morons who think that snip is a n00b, I say this: stop just saying things to be completely loyal to Crimson, who also makes mistakes and this was one of them. Why dont you look at the facts for one time in your damn lives? If i get banned for writing this post, so be it. That will just show that dumbasses have taken over, because I am trying to reason with you here. In fact, I am sure some dumbass will reply to this post with their favorite putdown "you n00b". I say to that person: grow balls and tell me what you really think. Thank you.

Fact, as presented by snipgod him/herself:

Quote:Crimson i did not spam a server i spammed a BOT that was on xwis.

He did something that was unacceptable. As Crimson stated, "(they)do not accept vigilante justice."

Fact: He was banned from Renegade by doing something wrong.

I completely understand that. However, like I said, we all feel very bad at Fncall servers, and would like the guy to get a second chance. He is a very respected player everywhere he goes. I know crimson feels that he/she (sorry I dont know you very well yet of course) was just doing a job, but crimson didnt look at everything. Crimson ignored how much Snip HAS DONE for renegade. He is, in my opinion, one of the best moderators out there. He has banned many, many cheaters. And even with renguard, as I have stated before, we have been overrun by cheaters lately and have had to ban a lot of people.

I will understand if he is not unbanned..but at least consider what I have said. Thank you for your time, and good night.

the reason none of you know any of my names are because you stay in you little "renguard protected servers" where anyone can walk in with a renguard bypass and be praised as such an excellent player, because they have renguard on. if the mods of those servers took the time to test people even if they had renguard on, they would notice that some of them have cheats. Its not that hard. And no, a simple big head cheat will not work because only an idiot would use big head. I spend my time in the servers that count. the servers that have good people in them. I play in the Fnsrv, LTserv and EVO servers. the place where if you get one kill some n00b doesnt try and forcerenguard you. I have seen people in games with renguard that have gone through with 20 kills and 2 deaths, here i come in and i get one head shot. i get forcerg'ed. In the fncall servers i have caught so many damn cheaters who have tried to weasel their way out of a test by saying "but i have renguard, i dont cheat" My responce to that is, if you have renguard and you dont cheat then you shouldnt have a problem with going through a test and supplying a screen shot. Do they do this? no they chicken out because they know they are going to get caught. My rule in servers is, you refuse a test, you are banned. Not to mention all the damned n00bs who have come in, cheated, taken the test thinking renguard will protect them, and fail the bones.ini test. So word to the wise here, renguard does its job for the stupid cheaters, the new ones that dont know crap. but for the few that know something about renegade and how it works, they get by it easily. This is where mods come in. All i am saying is get a better moderation team on your servers and you may actually achieve the once thought impossible, a cheat free server. I was playing in the Fncall's server today. There was a guy who was using big head and nothing was done about it. Yeah, great moderation my ass - in fact; that server is the only server i've ever seen a cheater, or suspected one in the last few months. (Though when a Nod soldier can shoot you 6 headshots in a row across the field on city and suddenly not be able to hit you for a full 5 seconds (Yeah, good going cheater, that wasn't blatantly obvious use of big head, shoot 6 bullets and stop) Not like it made a difference in the end. Why in Earth would you use big head and get 3 kills total is beyond me. Back to the point.. I've seen more cheaters in a non renguarded server than in any renguarded one. At least when no moderators are present I can actually do something about people who use cheats

First off, I have no respect at all for fnfall after my IRC network has been flooded by people from there so many times I had to institute a filter for "fnfall".

Next, this all has NOTHING AT ALL to do with RenGuard, and everything to do with someone page flooding someone else, so I'm not going to rehash that old topic except to say that only a fool believes RenGuard to be 100% foolproof (which is impossible for ANY anti-cheat) and RG 1.04 is on the way which will be the closest we've ever gotten.

If you all must know, I am having a discussion with the other Server Owners to put together a final rule list for XWIS complete with consequences. Personally, I felt that page flooding fell under the "no-brainer" immediate lifetime bans and there isn't anyone here (aside from you new guys who, I'm sure, came here to defend your friend regardless of his actions) who disagrees with me.

Now, there was never a rule stated that no bots of any kind were allowed on XWIS. And even if there was, this person did NOT go about it in the correct way at ALL. There is no room for vigilante justice. We listen to people who act like adults, not children.

And no, I don't know what this person has done for Renegade, but if you believe that "doing a lot for Renegade" commands respect, then why are you being so disrespectful to BHS? That's what I'd like to know.

Subject: Re: Thank You Crimson

The fact he moderates a server has nothing to do with helping the game Renegade. It just has everything to do with helping one server do what others could also do in his place.

I have found that testing is helping even less than RG (which has been bypassed but I'm pretty confident 1.04 will take the job back on). People use right click to cheat, left to not cheat. Or they have this magic button which turns cheats on and off. Good luck with your test then. Basically tests are as bypassed as RG, or even more.

There's only one way to go and that's your nose. Most of the time you can smell cheaters...

It doesn't change the fact that you have a xwis exploiting program AND you have used it. Noone is sure that you spammed a bot or a server. From the picture we saw, noone can tell. One thing is sure: you should take your responsibility for your acts.

I still haven't seen any kind of apology neither. You just try to justify yourself, asking your friends to come and post.

Yeah, great moderation my ass - in fact; that server is the only server i've ever seen a cheater, or suspected one in the last few months. (Though when a Nod soldier can shoot you 6 headshots in a row across the field on city and suddenly not be able to hit you for a full 5 seconds (Yeah, good going cheater, that wasn't blatantly obvious use of big head, shoot 6 bullets and stop) Not like it made a difference in the end. Why in Earth would you use big head and get 3 kills total is beyond me. Back to the point.. I've seen more cheaters in a non renguarded server than in any renguarded one. At least when no moderators are present I can actually do something about people who use cheats

If u find a cheater and no mods are ingame or on irc then get proof(like a screen shot or something like that) then !poll kick them and then post the proof at www.fncall.com and it will be taken care of.

Like I said.. I hardly care, it's more of your business and i'm not going to waste my time just to ban some dickhead. Besides, what's proof? How am I going to prove with a screenshot that some guy uses big head? even if a guy did happen to shoot me behind a wall where my head could stick out, it could still have been lag. So like I said, I'm not even going to bother with it. Final renegade --> leave; Big head --> buy a tank/vehicle and hopefully aim for the guy who cheats and kill him multiple times and hopefully he'll leave in frustration of how bad he plays. As for pollkicking - it loses it's effect when a person can rejoin in few seconds flat. Hence why if a cheater was in at least a half rg.. forcerg is a more permanent solution to a problem, unless of course the cheater decided to be like any good player and not cheat. Yeah, right.

He did apologise though. I do believe that he could have done a better apology, as he kind of attacked you all still, but he did apologise, so there is no way you can say that you have not seen any kind of apology at all.

Second off, he did not "tell his friends to go on here and post". I made that decision myself. I'm an adult, I don't need to be told by someone what I need to do. Snip is a friend of mine, true, but I also have a great deal of respect for what he has done.

Of course, that does not get rid of the fact that he did spam a bot, which is against the rules. Thus, I completely understand why he is banned now. I even stated earlier that I didn't expect him to get unbanned, I just wanted Crimson to consider it more.

If posts questioning things in a mature manner are going to lead to me getting flamed, then so be it. Frankly I could care less what people on an internet forum think, I just want to have Snip get a second chance.

Sincerely,
Pujols005

Just FYI:

Even if you're banned from XWIS, you can still play on any Renegade server which you have the IP/port to, via Renegade IP (or even from your Start->Run, or anything else which lets you run game/2.exe with command-line parameters). I doubt you could ever be truly banned from Renegade, unless you're banned from every gameserver.

He didn't attack "us all". He just attacked that one bot. The victim of the attack posted a screen shot asking me to ban him, and seeing as how a username of "RenChat1" could only be used for no good, the evidence was QUITE clear that this person had lost his privileges to connect to XWIS.

Well as far as I know, Snip hasn't been able to get on yet. I keep repeating, I know he did something wrong, and he should probably stay banned for it. But what I really don't like is that Crimson won't look at anything I have to say. It's not like im flaming BHS, I think BHS has done a fantastic job with renegade. And I think for the most part renguard does its job, it's just that I have always had problems with it, as have several other people. I know this is rare, but I would just be a lot happier if something was done to fix the glitches that cause me not to be able to play renegade anymore after a certain time of having renguard.

But back to Snip. I noticed that you unbanned all cheaters eventually on n00bstories, Crimson, on "amnesty day". Well, my question to you is how is this worse than cheating? I really don't understand it at all. How could blatant cheaters get off scotch free eventually, while this guy who is a great player and person spams a bot and gets the brunt of the punishments. Just please explain that and I will leave. Thank you for your time, and continue to do good work for renegade, because I agree with everything you have done other than this decision and some of the problems with renguard.

First off, explain my grammatical errors. I am in college currently, and in my first year. I am going for a degree in broadcast journalism, and so far all I have are A's in my English classes. Would you please state what my grammatical errors are, because I would love to know so I can fix them in the future.

Also, since when were only established posters allowed to post? I thought this was a "public" forum. So does this really mean that I would have to have been here since the forum started to have my opinions noted? I guess being a "nobody" means that I have nothing good to say.

Also, last time I checked, this forum wasn't an English essay contest forum. It was a renegade forum. If i miss a comma, that doesn't automatically qualify me for "moron of the year" award. On the contrary, I think it is much worse to flame and not care about anything that is being stated.

Considering that I am replying to you, I don't know where you come to the conclusion that I'm not reading what you are saying.

This case is very cut and dry in my eyes, but if he wants to apologize, that's all well and good, but I have one small problem -- the interface that I have been provided doesn't HAVE a way to delete a ban, so I would have to contact Olaf separately to ask for the ban removed. But, I'm not entirely sure how well my reasoning of "well, he apologized somewhere I think" would go over.

I understand that completely Crimson. I just wanted to get across that his ban deserved a second look, that's all. I'm sorry about how I entered the forum, I was way too critical, and now I really understand why he was banned. If he is unbanned, I will be very happy, if not, I will still be happy because you have at least looked at this. Again, thank you for your time, and keep up the good work.

Actually, I think that award should go to people who don't know how to use the edit button(I am not telling where it is, you have to find it your self). I am sure those people know who I am talking to.

But since you are new to these forums, just use edit button next time instead of double posting, because double posting usually makes people seem like noobs.

pujols005 wrote on Wed, 08 February 2006 23:30Dear Crimson, Hello. You may not know me. And I may not know you. I do know a certain Snip though. As a fellow operator at a server he is an operator at, I was shocked to learn that he was banned from renegade. I knew he would never cheat, as the guy I know would never ever cheat. He is one of the most respected players I know. So when he told me that he was banned for spamming a bot, when bots are banned from even showing up, I thought it was very weird.

I also find it weird that most of you people here consider renguard to be the greatest thing since sliced bread. Do you realize that we have seen people get around renguard? And what about the many glitches that program has? Do you realize that I know people who have had to re install everything on their machine because of renguard suddenly not allowing them to play? Not only that, but when I was even able to get renguard to work, it DIDNT WORK. It would always say "pujols005 is not running renguard" when i had the damn screen up there and was logged into renguard. I feel that many of you place way too much stock on how good renguard is. It does its job some of the time, but it is very unreliable.

I finish with this: renegade is, sadly, dying. XWIS hasnt been that bad, when you discount that the clan page wasnt up for an age and a half. But I have noticed that it has mostly been good, honest players being booted lately from the game as n00bs take it over completely. I, for one, am tired of renguard continuing to be praised and of great players and people being booted. Snip should be allowed to come back. He made a mistake, but who doesnt? And also, bots are banned in the first place. Where was Crimson when the bot got on?

And to all the morons who think that snip is a n00b, I say this: stop just saying things to be completely loyal to Crimson, who also makes mistakes and this was one of them. Why dont you look at the facts for one time in your damn lives? If i get banned for writing this post, so be it. That will just show that dumbasses have taken over, because I am trying to reason with you here. In fact, I am sure some dumbass will reply to this post with their favorite putdown "you n00b". I say to that person: grow balls and tell me what you really think. Thank you.

You may not know me but I have delt with you. You my friend are a fool, your server is a joke, you are a bunch of immature retards who stab people in the back and attack people/servers. I have more respect for xphaze than you and I hate them with a passion. He is not respected for two simple reason. The server he is connected to and the fact that in his first post he mentioned cyberprick. In terms of what RG has done for Renegade it is the best thing since sliced bread. If you pulled your head out of your ass you would know that. That doesn't mean that it is perfect. To expect an anti-cheat to be 100% is something only people like you do when digging for excuses. I also know that it works, any bypasses that do work are not main stream and it keeps what is main stream out. If you have a better anit-cheat on your server then by all means do share. You have all these cute ways to dance around the subject but the simple fact is what he did was wrong and his stupid ass got cought. But I really don't see what the problem is. Why would you care about being banned from a game that is dying???

in reference to me using the nickname CyberPunk, I did it to make fun of the guy, not because I idolize him. I have only played with the name while having a joke with my friends. I also used the name Acolyte, which is a member that i banned from the servers I used to mod, The IRC that I mod, and the clan that i was a member of because of several death threats the that he gave several people and myself. I used his name to make fun of him, and also he has taken my name to make fun of me and try to make people believe that I am a Cheater. The fact that I used those two names has no importance this topic.

First off man, why go off on me? First off I apologised for that opening post that I made, and I understand why snip was banned.
Second off, you cant put everyone in the same category for fnfall servers, and I have never seen you in my life. There are a lot of good people in there. I am nice to everyone I meet in there, and I would never ever backstab.
Next, like I said, I wouldnt care much if I was banned from the game, even though I still love it. I just am responding because Snip is very upset about it and I wanted to see if he could get a second chance. Please read my later posts, you will see that I am now agreeing with Crimson for the decision, and just wanted her to look at it differently, while she also got me to look at it differently.

And n00bs? You just reinforced what I first said. You are the immature one, thinking that n00b is a terrible thing to call me and calling me one for no reason whatsoever.

And again, I have never seen you in my life so you haven't "dealt with me". Are you somebody I banned a long time ago or something, is that why you are so angry at me?

And by the way this is a pretty good forum Crimson, I plan to come here more often now

You ripped the modlist from the public version on NGSGuard and gave it to me saying "i worked on this for a while" The help script you sent me was just a rip off the modlist, only thing different was the way it was worded. And you were the one that wrote the script to WWDECLINE people in the first play. As far as im concerned you should have no input in this Topic. I may have done an inapropriate thing to another Bot, But atleast i did not Rip the hard work other people put into making scripts. and i know this is right because after me and tweek confronted you about ripping his work, you cried and ran off like a baby and hid for a month. Then you come back and denie the whole thing. I can put up with spammers. Because i have done it and it does not harm much. Rippers on the other hand are people with no moral fiber at all. I do not know how a person can honestly take someones work and then turn around and LIE about making it themselves. It disgusts me as well as many people in this forum, on fncall's irc, and around the world. This is why i hate you, this is why i dont talk to you in IRC. You are an annoying little twit with all your "snip why do you hate me" crap that i got 2 months ago. snip is banned from XWIS.
snip is complaining to Crimson.
snip was not banned by Renguard.
snip is now complaining that he got banned because he spammed a bot, because bots aren't allowed on XWIS.

snip: if you think that this is so unfair, why don't you just go and make your own WOL server? Strike-Team can ban whomever the hell they want to ban for any offence that they deem innnapropriate.

you fucked up your quotes and yes I saw that you apologised and for that I give you credit (perhaps I should have mentioned that in the first post). However that doesn't change my opinion of the situation. And yes you have delt with me, way back when fnfall was hosting RS irc for me and Opty. I'll leave it at that since it really doesn't matter any more. Btw, just so were clear. I chose to judge and group fnfall just like you did Renguard and it's users.

Are bots allowed in xwis or not? And your bot crimson, was that on there because you could have it on there, but none of us can have one on there?

And before yall start doggin fnfall servers, yall should know what your talking about. Hell he was one of the first servers on here, that was strong then and is still strong now. Fnfall's a good man, don't let a few of his "past" mods ruin his good name, because of what you supposively heard.

For snip, I don't agree with him spamming a bot. But was that bot supposed to be there in the first place. Or is that something you were running for xwis?

Just for those of you who will say "who the hell is this guy", I'm Fred, and went by KoTPaine for .. oh, the last 10 years. I have been away due to family issues, including my wife having a tumor (cyst) in her brain (yeah, it was benign, and she is fine now).

So for the flammers out there who have a bandwagon mentality and feel the need to say something they percieve to be clever, bear in mind that I could care less, I have bigger fish to fry.

I just have a couple things to say on the subject, so here goes;

If he is a mod on several servers, then he may well be respected -- But to take your frustration out on Crimson or the XWIS team is;

1. Misguided, since EA obviously saw fit to pass the torch to a third party.

This is just the final insult, imo. Renegade was given @$% support from day one. I was fortunate enough to have played the beta (thanks to Dr. Evil -- You know who you are)..

I was fortunate enough also to be invited to the Renegade launch even here in San Jose, and at the dinner we had with all the Westwood guys (Chris, Cliff, Amy, and several others), they were espousing how easily creating "mods" would be with the tools they would be providing (that should give everyone a laugh), and they lauded a supposed "Dune" mod that was being worked on already (hmm, more vaporware BS). I can't really fault them, as they had a job to do, but EA obviously could not see fit to provide a decent budget or level of support after slow sales (even as preliminary renders, etc were being done for a sequel), thus dooming Command & Conquer to a "RTS-ONLY" future. I think they were excited when we were told all this, and although two of the guys at Westwood (whom I was closest to) would not say so for fear that it would come back to haunt them, EA giving up on C&C as a FPS game was a bitter disappointment.

Now, I digress a bit too much.

2. Immature. DDoS, hacks and exploits are never the way to acceptably express dissent or dissatisfaction -- I have been the victim of such actions too, and in the end, the community lost, as I lost my cool and did/said things that I surely would never have done in a more lucid moment.

3. Wrong. RenGuard isn't the problem -- Although I prefer not to use it (it increases my ping times enough to noticeably affect my gameplay experience), but EA dropped the ball here too. What we needed from day one was something along the lines of "Punk-Buster", and had they saw fit, they could have moved things along.. After all, it's only a matter of time with ANY game that people will try to win unfairly, use exploits, aimbots, or hacks (like Big Head or the Fire-Repair hack).

I simply just use RenGuard on servers that require it, but not on the servers that do not require it.

The fact is that these folks (many) pay BIG BUCKS to provide us players with a host. A server to play on for FREE. Respect their rules -- If not, don't go away mad, just go away.

It's not a life-changing decision to NOT act out like an insolent child, but in the end folks within the community (as in everyday life) will judge you for your actions, so when you act in a less than mature manner, it's much harder to take the complaints (justified or not) seriously.

Crimson,

Well after glancing through these forums since I was active in a topic on here a month or two ago. Snip informed me that he was banned from Renegade for spamming a bot. This may be repetitive but I still want to put a few things out here for everyone to consider. Keep in mind snip is a friend of mine and I have known him for quite a long time, he is a great friend who I have been through a lot with. None of that does in fact effect the following points I am suggesting to you though;

#1. He did something that was against the rules, may I ask where exactly these rules are displayed in Renegade for everyone to view?

#2. He has apologized for his actions and as well as a few others brought up a very vital point, he was banned for spamming a bot on Renegade. Last I checked bots weren't allowed on Renegade

so wouldn't that mean that the XpHaze Owner/Owners (I don't know how their system works as I do not play there) should be banned to?

#3. He was in fact in the wrong with his actions but by banning him for doing something wrong it seems to me as if XPHaze should suffer the same consequences as they did something wrong as well.

#4. Naturally when people find out that one of their friends has been banned from Renegade they are going to come to the forums read the topic and support their friend. As for whomever posted about direct connecting to servers, many servers on Renegade have a block that will not allow people to direct connect to them.

Just keep in mind that by not using the direct connect method to play he is obeying his ban completely. I am asking the same thing as pujols that you look at your rules and regulations that are set up in order to make Renegade a great game to play (which it always has been from the start). Who I am doesn't matter I could care less how many of you know me and don't know me. I play this game for fun and oftentimes enjoyed playing with snip; He has made it clear he understands that his actions were in the wrong, as well as apologizing for those actions.

I just personally believe that everyone deserves a second chance, this is a policy I have always saw as an effective way of finding out who those people are that you can really trust. Everyone makes mistakes, the honest ones are the ones who realize those mistakes and accept that what they did was wrong. If it is true that you in-fact unbanned all of the people who ruined the actual game by cheating it seems to me as if spamming a bot that shouldn't have been their in the first place giving you a ban that would never be lifted is outrageous. Thanks for your time and please take the time to read my entire post as I have tried to cover everything in one post.

Let me ask you this. Where the hell is #renalert. I have never seen or heard of such a channel.

Second, ECBot is my IRC bot and has only been on irc.n00bstories.com at one point when my irc went down, other than that it has never left irc.ltroush.com/irc.fnfall.com.

third, I have never used a nick called ECXian...nor is it registered on ren.

fourth if this is in an irc server and not ren, i only use the nicks snip,Xian,y0da0.

Fifth, The Xian on Xphaze and me (the xian on ltroush) are two different people.

And finally show some logs of "me" doing this, and include timestamps, channels, and irc server. I think i smell a liar.

[EDIT] oh and let me also add, if you had read the entire topic you would have noticed me saying that a person by the name of Acolyte has made it his life in trying to ruin my names. If it is him then it explains alot. Please post the host of the person that is banned from that channel. I am from New Jersey and know the host of people that live around me. So please provide me with the host of the person and the irc server. If you cannot do that than i know you are lieing. (keep in mind i want the whole host, including nickname and username.)

also how much do you want to bet he copied those names from my first post?

Edit:

<http://strike-team.net/nuke/html/modules.php?op=modload& name=News&file=article&sid=13>

This lists all XWIS rules. There are NO bots allowed on XWIS, nor are you permitted to connect to the network with any software other than what's released by EA/Westwood. Hence, software created to page flood people is prohibited.

(Yes, I realize this makes WOLProxy against the rules but Olaf has known about this app since before we moved from WOL to XWIS and he knows what it does and has never voiced an objection so I know it's OK)

I really dont understand why people keep on ripping on me and Snip. I have a feeling that the people that continue to flame havent read an entire post yet. And this one weird guy seems to think I am snip and keeps on acting like I'm the one who was banned. I find this all very weird, and I think this whole thing should just blow over.

However, for those that still continue to question the integrity of snip, I feel sorry for you. You obviously havent noticed just how many people keep coming in and supporting him, that he has apologised, and that none of us are flaming BHS. Whoever got the picture that I was flaming BHS didn't read my posts. I love BHS, and they do a great job.

And also, please stop non-stop flaming of fnfall servers. Yes, it has had its bad mods, but what server hasnt? There is not a perfect server out there. There are plenty of good mods on there, and to put us all together as terrible people and mods is not only ignorant but it is insulting to me.

Again, thank you Crimson for doing so much work to look into this and respond to this post so much, it really shows that you care and I appreciate it.

Let me show you this, if you don't mind. If you wanna know where the name ECXian came from, it came from a user named Acolyte got thought he'd avoid the horribly simple remote I set up to kick him under that name. Something along the lines of "if * in ? says !xian, attempt to //kick these screenmes." I don't get why it's so important to you.

If somebody is going by your names on various channels and registering under them on cheating sites and playing Renegade with the same names as you, you've got a serious problem on your hands. He's copying your typing style, methods of argument, and has an in-depth knowledge of how you operate so much that he's convinced me that he's the same as you!

If you want, I bet I can bring a bunch of witnesses in who saw your pages about cheating sites where you were registered under your other names, that you were posting a lot under your yet other names. In fact, you posting about these cheating sites prompted a bunch of people, including my old roommate, to register at those cheating sites and mock the script kiddie techno-tards there and allow the moderators know that all the admins and mods at the site are clueless asshats.

Read the line below this very carefully. You get it after pressing that awesome button I first noted at the very start of this post. Seeing as how you frequent at least one forum beyond this, I'd expect you to know about the "edit" button.

Lets see, this is an IRC channel you are talking about. Yes i know of Acolyte because i banned him from my clans websites, multiple servers, and the IRC server that i am on for Death threats. The only name i have seen him use is Xian, because that is the name that i used when i banned him, was also the name i used on the website. So if this in an IRC channel then why are my renegade names in your list? most of the names in that list i used one time. ECBot was a ren name i made for my bot when went back to using RenChat1. That name has never been in any game what so ever. ph1gg, used one time. along with almost all of them. so therefore acolyte would only recognize the nicks Xian, snipgod, yoda, my 3 most freakenly used names. So yes, bring in your witnesses, but have them bring logs. Because i can bet that you are making this entire story up. Get your information straight.

Oh, you havnt told me yet, if you had a script to ban someone from your channel if the Host name matched. What was the host name of the user you were banning? And PLEASE tell me the IRC server. So dont go making up lies so you sound like you know what your saying. For every "witness" that you bring here to say that i spammed that, i can bring 2 saying that i would never do such a thing. Well after glancing through these forums since I was active in a topic on here a month or two ago. Snip informed me that he was banned from Renegade for spamming a bot. This may be repetitive but I still want to put a few things out here for everyone to consider. Keep in mind snip is a friend of mine and I have known him for quite a long time, he is a great friend who I have been through a lot with. None of that does in fact effect the following points I am suggesting to you though;

#1. He did something that was against the rules, may I ask where exactly these rules are displayed in Renegade for everyone to view?

#2. He has apologized for his actions and as well as a few others brought up a very vital point, he was banned for spamming a bot on Renegade. Last I checked bots weren't allowed on Renegade so wouldn't that mean that the XpHaze Owner/Owners (I don't know how their system works as I do not play there) should be banned to?

#3. He was in fact in the wrong with his actions but by banning him for doing something wrong it seems to me as if XPHaze should suffer the same consequences as they did something wrong as well.

#4. Naturally when people find out that one of their friends has been banned from Renegade they are going to come to the forums read the topic and support their friend. As for whomever posted about direct connecting to servers, many servers on Renegade have a block that will not allow people to direct connect to them.

Just keep in mind that by not using the direct connect method to play he is obeying his ban completely. I am asking the same thing as pujols that you look at your rules and regulations that are set up in order to make Renegade a great game to play (which it always has been from the start). Who I am doesn't matter I could care less how many of you know me and don't know me. I play this game for fun and oftentimes enjoyed playing with snip; He has made it clear he understands that his actions were in the wrong, as well as apologizing for those actions.

I just personally believe that everyone deserves a second chance, this is a policy I have always saw as an effective way of finding out who those people are that you can really trust. Everyone makes mistakes, the honest ones are the ones who realize those mistakes and accept that what they did was wrong. If it is true that you in-fact unbanned all of the people who ruined the actual game by cheating it seems to me as if spamming a bot that shouldn't have been their in the first place giving you a ban that would never be lifted is outrageous. Thanks for your time and please take the time to read my entire post as I have tried to cover everything in one post.

I would really like these answered Crimson, not to be a pain in the @$$ or anything but they are all serious questions I want answers to...Thanks again.

I already posted the link to these.

Quote:#2. He has apologized for his actions and as well as a few others brought up a very vital point, he was banned for spamming a bot on Renegade. Last I checked bots weren't allowed on Renegade so wouldn't that mean that the XpHaze Owner/Owners (I don't know how their system works as I do not play there) should be banned to?

This doesn't excuse his actions. I already said this, too.

Quote:#3. He was in fact in the wrong with his actions but by banning him for doing something wrong it seems to me as if XPHaze should suffer the same consequences as they did something wrong as well.

XPhaze removed their bot after this, but after further discussion we are allowing the bot to be on there. We're in the process of drafting up the Renegade-specific rules modifications to be approved by Olaf and DonCarlo at XWIS. I already said this, too.

Quote:#4. Naturally when people find out that one of their friends has been banned from Renegade they are going to come to the forums read the topic and support their friend. As for whomever posted about direct connecting to servers, many servers on Renegade have a block that will not allow people to direct connect to them.

I don't know what you expect me to respond to or answer here.

If the server wants to kick direct-connect people, that's not my concern. The ban was from connecting to XWIS, not banned from connecting to servers that are in turn connected to XWIS. The ban from XWIS was to ensure he was not able to page flood someone else again.

And just for the record, I did have his ban removed, and next time he decides to page flood someone there will be no removal.

Also, if you're going to INSIST that I respond to your questions, read the entire thread so you don't look like an ass wanting answers to questions I've already answered elsewhere.

The n00bstories IRC server, captain asshat.

And why the hell are the exact details of the script so vital to your cause?! Holy shit dude, you know how to script, so do I need to give you a tutorial on setting up an ON TEXT SCRIPT as a REMOTE?

<commands here>

See, you put the text where it says "text here" that you want as a trigger. You can put a channel name in the next section if you want, or not; there's awesome special symbols you can use too. You can specify, using for example # or ? or another punctuation, to indicate any channel or any PM or any channel or PM. Then you put the actual commands. These aren't your default IRC commands, these are the "real commands." For example, to kick a stubborn son of a bitch, use </kick snipgod>. You can of course specify a "reason" to display to the channel for the kick!

Why the hell do you keep demanding the exact script from me?! I can't provide it, I cleared my aliases last time I reinstalled mIRC and NNS.

Why is it so fucking important? Every damn reply to me is "LOL WHAR IS YOUR SCRIPT? FAILURE TO POST PROVES MY INNOCENCE AND UR STUPIDTY!111" What the hell are you trying to prove?

Also! Breaking news: your IRC nick or hostmask can contain periods! For example, you could be raging.homo@faggotry.snipgod.com... or bhe.xian@why.am.i.so.stupid.co.uk. Not all clients are yet set up for properly displaying this, because the changes were only made decades ago.

Further note: I do not like asshats bringing their bots into my channel either.

Yet another note: People who get banned because they don't know the rules (or maybe do and just break them anyways) shouldn't bitch about how little others supposedly know.

And even with renguard, as I have stated before, we have been overrun by cheaters lately and have had to ban a lot of people.

I will understand if he is not unbanned..but at least consider what I have said. Thank you for your time, and good night.

Well gee, I wonder why he got banned if he's a respected player everywhere he goes? oh wait, he's not...

Pujols, aren't you the faghat that was trolling #asm on EFnet? I'm pretty sure I've seen you around before. You were involved in the fruitbag/fagbag incident, go back under your bridge.

snipgod wrote on Wed, 08 February 2006 22:49but for the few that know something about renegade and how it works, they get by it easily.

it's news to me that you know ANYTHING about coding or hacking in general.

Also, I've had dealings with ECXian (or whatever lameass nick he's using today, snipgod or whatever) several times before, and have nothing to say except that my impression of him is... a 12 year old script kiddie who uses premade "hacktoolz" to impose his vigilante "justice" on anyone he dislikes or thinks is in the wrong. He has no skill whatsoever when it comes to programming and computers, but rather just reuses the same crap that every other lamer uses. He also visits (the site that must not be named) which I surfed about on for a while after he spammed the link several times in the APB IRC channel, it appears to be full of like-minded script kiddies and drooling morons who claim that pasting certain series of 0s and 1s (in ASCII, mind you, which results in a stream of 0x30 0x31 instead of anything "useful") into notepad and saving as a .EXE will result in cool "toolz".

In short, good riddance snipgod.

NOTE: I am the previous roommate Chronojam spoke of. I own the IP addresses 130.215.224.41, 130.215.224.42, and 130.215.225.33, and last year I owned two in the 130.224.228.x range (I believe one was around 30 and the other was 108, not sure.) Feel free to verify this against any logs you may have.

snipgod idiocy

If it is him then it explains alot. Please post the host of the person that is banned from that channel. I am from New Jersey and know the host of people that live around me. So please provide me with the host of the person and the irc server. If you cannot do that than i know you are lieing. (keep in mind i want the whole host, including nickname and username.)

will do, I just need to find my logs when I get back from work.
