I dont think thats too smart for your reputation (which is crap already anyway) and i cant see how it can get any worse. However, dont start again on that ban please. It will help you nothing accusing me by saying i started about your grandpa.

Now please tell me your age again, and we might talk further again. If it is above 12 it means you are lying to me, and i dont speak with liars

I was told by Goztow i would find some amusing posts here, and i found them Great DJM is still around here, good fun he is!

Ah the classic idiot psychology, I'm surprised you haven't resorted to "ur mom" jokes again yet.

First of all it's spelled "bollocks", "thats" would suggest multiple instances of "that", it's "I" not "i", "can't" not "cant", "don't" not "dont", "it will help you nothing" makes no senSe and you've missed a load of full stops. How about putting that into proper syntax, form, and grammar so that I can at least understand what you are saying before I dismiss it? You obviously don't listen in your English classes, I suggest you give the taxpayers their money back, no use it being wasted on little boys like you.

In regards to your "post", if there's an idea in your head, it's in solitary confinement. Are you always this ignorant, or are you making a special effort today? What possessed you to think that you were capable of being entertaining or interesting to read? Do yourself and everyone else a favor: disconnect your computer from the Internet.

First of all, I don't give a flying fuck what my reputation is like, in fact I couldn't care less. Don't make me get started on your encyclopedic ignorance again, Goztow mentioned that ban first, I mentioned a kick, and I'll swear to God that's what happened. Still, feel free to riddle us with your usual, constant stream of proverbial rubbish, I'm sure most users here would enjoy dismissing it entirely.

How is stating what happened going to help me anyway? I never said it would.

Quote:Now please tell me your age again, and we might talk further again. If it is above 12 it means you are lying to me, and i dont speak with liars

I am 16 for your information, and I'm not one single bit ashamed of it. How that has anything to do with this situation is beyond me, maybe you can enlighten me? If you're saying the way I type is equal to that of a twelve year old, based on your logic, I could deduce that you are around the age of 3.

It doesn't take a rocket scientist to know that your logic is obviously flawed, like your pathetic moderating ability. So it goes without saying that your assumption that I'm lying is in itself, bullshit.

Quote:I was told by Goztow i would find some amusing posts here, and i found them Great DJM is still around here, good fun he is!

Yes it's so obviously amusing, maybe you could tell me what the punchline is? Maybe instead of trying to boost your egos by pretending to find my posts funny you could pull your heads out of your asses and come up with something original.

In conclusion, sit down and shut up before trip over your own tongue and hurt yourself.

Since when does a 16 year old boy care about somebody elses spelling? Maybe thats because it might be his only strong point. And yes, you got a very strong point there! But at the other side... Im dutch, and I bet my english is better as your dutch, but thats a minor point. Mayor point actually is that you, as a high skilled English teacher, try to say whats good and wrong to people you dont know anything about. On this forum all the posts are English written, but that doesnt say anything about the writer, does it? Your idea that English is known everywhere on the world might be not that smart

DJM wrote on Tue, 14 February 2006 14:56l am 16 for your information, and I'm not one single bit ashamed of it. How that has anything to do with this situation is beyond me, maybe you can enlighten me?

You are 16, great ( I wont start about the lying) and nope, you cant be ashamed of your age. But you do can shame yourself for your additude. What it has to do with the situation? Umm, dont know... fill in yourself, or maybe some other forum visitors want to add that part.

Anywayz, enough bolloXXX again.

Since when? Since now.

I don't care what my dutch is like like, the main language for these forums is English, and as long as it is, I'll damn well speak it. I've told Goztow this before and I've told you it on your crappy, badly designed website before. Yet another instance where you seem to completely neglect to read what I've written. Telling you this over and over again really is getting tiring.

So I don't speak Dutch, whoopdey freaking doo, I've never had lessons for it and I never will, it's a useless language to me.

If you don't know what age has to do with the current situation why mention it? Please try to some idea of what the hell you are on about next time before you post your next stream of utter drivel.

The server has been on Euro WOL for about 1,5 year now. It hasn't always been up, sometimes we had a month downtime but it's a brenbot.dat that goes way back. And we're quite proud of that banlist.

We didn't have the no swearing rule forever. Moreover, everyone has the right on one warning. Our swear bot first warns and only kicks in case you swear again in the coming hours.

DJM, you won't experience it but it is much nicer to play in a server without people swearing and insulting others. And do you really need to continue this? I mean... drop it? Be a man and walk away?

Is it? So you speak for everybody now do you?

I certainly don't give a shit. I prefer to be able to say what I want, when I want and however I want. To me, any server imposing rules as stupid as "no swearing" on a game based around war and killing is a server worth avoiding.
