There's this awesome game that a friend of mine started up on another forum which I visit. I think it'll do well here...

To play the game, you grant the previous poster's wish, but in a horrible way (like the cursed monkey hand in that Simpson's halloween episode), and then make a wish of your own.

example:

Quote:(me)

I wish I could ascend like Daniel Jackson in Stargate.

Quote:(next person)

Granted, you ascend. Unfortunately, while you are eating lunch with Buddha, he eats you and you cease to exist.

I wish...

I'll start.

I wish I had more hot chocolate mix.

You get a 12 string guitar. However, the strings were old and brittle, and end up breaking. When they break, they fly so fast that they rip your hands off. You can no longer play a 12 string guitar.

You become the best Renegade player ever. You get so good that everyone starts calling you a cheater. Now you must dumb down your skills, because moderators ban you whether or not you're running RenGuard.

You find and drink from the fountain of youth at the excellent age of 22. You are now immune to all forms of STDs, have super strength, and cannot be arrested (being above the law). After two hundred years, aliens decide to take you aboard their spacecraft for study. They use ray-shields to prevent you from escaping. They begin their studies on a remote planet billions of lightyears away, on the verge of entering a black hole. GG.

Granted, noone cheats on Renegade. All ex-cheaters now actually start to learn the game and become good at it. You however, for some strange reason aren't able to get any better at the game. Soon you are the only n00b left on Renegade. Moreover, more and more people start to enjoy this game as there are no more cheaters and very soon there aren't enough servers left for all to play in . You need to wait in a line before players leave to join in.

I wish dynamic IP wouldn't be used and spoofing wouldn't be possible anymore so bans could really stay effective.

Unfortunantely, it wrecks all your discs as they spin way too fast destroying the interior of the console completely.

hey cats are the best... anyways granted ure sisters cat had and unfortunate accident so it now has 8 lives. But everything in the world is balanced so because the cat had one u must have and unfortunate accident ,but u dont die either. instead as ure almost dead on the side walk a horny gay homo with aids has his way with u and said the cat sent him, and runs off. this cat has friend and now gets them all to attack u so you are now dead. what a way to die.

i wish Ozzy Obourne was younger.

Granted. From the lack of schooling you get extremely stupid. From all the games the only knowledge you now know is from the video games you play. You become so insanely stupid, that you believe you are in your video game. After awhile of "being in your video game" you decide you want to be in Renegade. You think you are in Renegade and you get shot by a sniper. Being as stupid as you are from the lack of schooling, your brain tricks your ograns into thinking you got shot. They all fail, and you die.

I wish I didn't have to take the Marksmanship class in JROTC on Monday.

Granted!

You win your tournament but in second place comes a terrorist from the middle east. In spite of the anger he follows you home and places explosives all around your house and neighborhood. He then blows up your neighborhood in his freakishly bad arabian sportsmanship. The country you live in sees this as a act of terrorism and war, They begin to bombard Iraq and land ground troops and armor shortly after. They conflict with other countries military stationed in Iraq by accident. They do not forgive the careless mistake and war breaks out between the two, which leads to three countries being at war with eachother. Soon more are dragged into the conflict and so beings World War III. Ouch...

Your wish is granted, but everyone becomes rich and fat. Then there is world peace and every country melts down their weapons. All is well for a short time, then aliens attack us and we have forgotten how to fight due to world peace, plus everyone one is fat and if we did have guns or missiles, peoples fingers would be too fat to pull the trigger or push the red button. We all become slaves of this alien race and eventually die.

i wish i didnt have shool tomorrow.Oh come on. Any first grader could have come up with your wish grant. There was no heart in it at all.

A sudden snowflurry comes to your area. It snows you in, except for a perfect walkway to your driveway and then to your school, which isn't cancelled. The ice on the road causes this big car crash, and all of your meanest teachers are sent to the hospital, while all of your nicest teachers end up stuck waiting for the mess to be cleared up. You somehow got lost during all of this, (your ride) driving the wrong way. You didn't know anything weird had happened (excepting the snowflurry) until late that evening when your mother confronts you as to why you weren't at school. She didn't know either ... it was your sister who had told her (and you) about what had happened. Her and her big network of phone friends.

I wish I had more good music.

Wish granted. I acquaint you with Thrice (<http://www.WaterIsPoison.com>, <http://www.Thrice.net>), arguably the greatest band ever. In response to this act of supreme benevolence, you instantly develop a crush on me, only to have your heart broken when you find out I'm hetrosexual.

I wish I had a new iPod, with which to store all my good music. Nothing fancy, nothing special, just a 40-gig iPod. Preferably pre-gen4, before they implemented the iPod mini's terrible click-wheel design.

couch, and sit there for years and years living off rats and mice that go past ure couch.after 2 years you get a very serous disease,that does not kill you but causes extreme amounts of pain.after 2 years of this pain and non stop porn one of your arms falls off.on the 6th year of this porn u get bored of all the girl guy stuff and deicide to go out in the world and try some of the gay stuff for your self and stay gay for the rest of your life.

realize just how fresh Canadian water is, and decide that $70/barrel is well worth the money.
Unfortunately, the price is in Canadian Dollars, so it's actually closer to $.07/barrel in United States Dollars. People start drinking all of Canada's water, and so Canadians have to face a choice: start importing more expensive American water, or die from dehydration.
