How long does it usually take to get your forum account validation approved by the admins there?

anyway, I had a technical question maybe someone could answer in the meantime... I've installed the latest patch, but when I start it up all I see is this

The buttons are still there you just cant see them?

I reinstalled ren and Ren Alert... that fixed it for me...

Just make sure to pull out all youre fanmaps so you dont have to DL um again.

It sometimes takes maybe a day for me to notice people have registered and approve them. Call me crazy but I don't like just letting any schmuck register and start posting all over.

Usually not more than four hours though.
