Allow me to introduce myself to all that do not know me.

I go by the name GrAveTzT(Obviously) and about 2 years ago I threw out my gloves on renegade. It was around the same time after "Renstation" management switched to a new leader & administrator. The game had changed, Wol rankings were going downhill, EA had long quit the support, renguard was bugged to the gills, and I had a bad clan situation where I was clan leader & they all turned on me.

But then I realized how much fun it was in the begining so I've managed to find my gloves and be in the game again.

Kind of depressing. I recall really rocking peoples' world online in Renegade, but now I'm going to be a straight up semi-un-trained warrior again. I'm seeing a lot of new names and only a few old one's that I know. It's been a long time.

So hello to the new people, you'll see me around I hope.
Hey guys, to anyone who remembers me
And if I get this renguard to stop giving me errors then I'll be up and playing again.

Oh, and just curious.

Whatever happened with Renstation?

renstation is gone I think. The server isn't up anymore and a long time ago speedy(i think that was his name) left renstation and made someone else admin. Since I just got back into renegade I don't know exactly what happened to it.

You're a fucking retard. Stop talking in caps lock and maybe if you fucking used the Search feature you wouldn't have to spam threads.

The new XWIS allows non FDS serials. This means you can use the same serial that you use for your game client, with your FDS (XWIS allows 5 connections per serial).

Renstation FINALLY was laid to rest. After speedy finished sucking and being a n00b lilwashu took over. When she was done being useless it was handed over to myself and a guy by the name of Opty. Well by then it was like beating a dead horse, we made a go of it but there really was no point. All it was was a bunch of loser who couldn't let go anymore. So after the usual bitching and no donations we shut it down and said fuck it. Then a scum bag by the name of sp0di "took over", well it was more like steal since he knew the passwords but it was just that no one who could do anything about it cared. The forums had the same losers in it and was as inactive as it gets. The server was pretty much target practice and went down for the last time months ago for the same reasons. So much bitching and no help (it was something that "community" of retards couldn't figure out). So yea, I have this urge to go into a rant about how much theaer sucks shit right now so I'm just going to shut up and be glad his web site sucks and has no members. Thought that is to be expected work from him.

Well, it sounds like you had a bad experience. I didn't mind it there, except for the "Iddamager" character that liked to hang out and bother us all.

(I'm proud to announce that I stole my first tank at 3 minutes into the game. I still may have it going on.)

Same here,

I've just recovered(still actualy) from a 6year blackout, that is with no PC or internet. So I've been away from renegade a long time and al this new improvements are just to much to swallow at once, although i'm up in heaven. Im glad that I still remembered my account and pass or else I would have to register again and that would have been a pain.

Also about the time I was playing the game back then I started a clan wich wasn't that big yet, however It seems that the WOL server is no longer so is there a way I can get to it?

BTW how long did it take any of you to be good at sniping on renegade cuz I suck at it(maybe because I don't feel the need to train at it).

could u post the reply on this last question in a different forum? this way we won't have to go off-topic

*could u post the reply on this last question in a different forum? this way we won't have to go off-topic*Xwis has taken over WOL. Renegade system doesn't allow clans anymore (for the moment). Your old nick and pass have been reregistered when u first logged in without u noticing . Lucky noone took it over . Add me on msn if you want more info. (see profile)
