so, about a week or so ago i started up renegade with tfd and when i go online i get a message pop up that says "invalid serial blah blah if you are using the first decade delete woldata.key so, i did that and i was able to get online. but, the next time i went to start renegade usig renguard i get the message cannot create serial hash or something like that. and i was unable to start renegade until i changed the game2 back to game and the scripts2 back to scripts. in onther words, i'm not able to use renguard anymore.

so, any ideas on how to fix this? or is bhs working on fixing this?

Try re-entering your serial using the program which is described and linked to in this thread:
