I thought this would make good discussion...possibly. So here it is.

I am playing Guild Wars and my friend sends me a message on Xfire telling me to watch this video on 9/11 he found on Google. (Wow, a video about 9/11 on the internet, probably edited, full of lies, or something of the sort). So I tell him I will watch it later because I am busy at the moment. As I am playing he messages me again saying that 9/11 was completely setup by our government to gain money because we are in debt so bad. He strongly believes that video proves it.

Linky: <http://video.google.com/videoplay?docid=94448691996878155&am p;am p;q=www.vaken.se>

Anyway, I find it perposterous how someone can believe that. I laughed at him at his own stupidity.

(Yeah, right... our government would really destroy 2 of the United States most valuable buildings and kill all those innocent people)

I am curious as to what you all have to say.

There's already a thread about this, started seriously by zunnie in the Politics/Hot Issues section.

Governments will do whatever they can to stay in power or to get what they want. Im not saying 9-11 is one of those times, but never think that we got to be #1 by being honest and not doing secretive acts.

I'm sure governments have done more for less.

I really can decide which one I believe. I find both sides very possible... and since I'm just a kid I'm not getting involved in these kinds of stuff.

It's possible Xenu came from outer space and we're full of thetons, but no one serious believes it. This applies to this situation

I don't believe that the government would have set 9/11 up, especially considering it put us in even more debt.
