Weird... I wonder what his ping was. A lot of the time it doesn't even look like he's hitting them and they just die. Look at the last kill in the second video (it's in slow mo), it looks like he straight up missed him. I don't think he's cheating or anything it's just bizarre because it looks a lot different when I headshot people.

I know the first movie has already been discussed here, and it was under 'iffy' circumstances. I personally distinctly recall a short discussion about how the kill of the engineer standing still repairing the mammy wasn't that hard.

Well, I can tell you he wasn't using a bighead cheat. Typical lag killing I'm sure. People jump from a corner and snipe me with 1 shot, and I think bullshit. Then when I have a sniper riffle, I jump from the bushes and fire without aiming and get a kill. And I again think BULLSHIT, I missed him by 3 feet.

yo, u can download the video and look frame by frame especially for the last kill... look when the reticle is red....look when the bullet is fired... easy.

it's strange that the one u'r arguing about is the one i put in slow motion lol...

for Xtaro : well if u do a video like that, there will be people saying : wow not bad!!! and other saying : wow he cheat!!!

and some other : they are all lucky shot or lag kill...

well, that's no different from the last time...

for kanezor: yo m8 , yeah yeah i have to put easy kill... it's like a movie u know... sometime the story doesn't go the way u expected, and u have to put some stuff to complete it.

for dover : don't worry they are all easy, laggy, and stand still head shot... u can do exactly the same as me.(if u got some time to loose though) dun worry, sniping is not what renegade is about. (well some people may disagree with me..)

keep training ^^

well, i really enjoyed reading u all and thx u all for any comment u make on the video.

Training for what? What did you do that required any skill? I don't see anything more to what you were doing besides keeping your aim in one spot while moving side to side a lot.. congratulations, you've joined the club of those who've done that for years now.

"Sniping" in this game is a joke. You're even more of a joke for posting these pathetic videos to stroke your ego. Go play another game and brag about shooting in that, Renegade takes absolutely no skill to play - which is why it's overly populated with people younger than 13, there's no challenge involved in controlling your weapon and its accuracy.

Nice try, but anyone impressed by this load of bullshit seriously sucks at the game and at FPS games in general.

well, let's begin:

for ack:

Training for what? What did you do that required any skill

---it was a way of cheering him, and not for him to think of him as a bad sniper. well... it's not that i was trying to be kind but, it was not meant to be taken the way u did. looks like you thought something else about it.

I don't see anything more to what you were doing besides keeping your aim in one spot while moving side to side a lot..

---wow nice point here, (i just not agree about the "keep u'r aim at one spot" part.) but well you are damn right about something : i'm moving side to side. actually, i already tried to stand still while sniping and not move side to side... but i think most of the people will agree... you get killed a lot!!

you've joined the club of those who've done that for years now

---well, i hope evryone will welcome me with open arms ^^

"Sniping" in this game is a joke.

---ahahahaha , actually i like this joke. ( i hope u'll understand that one).

You're even more of a joke for posting these pathetic videos to stroke your ego.

---talking about ego... u know what i think? i mean, u know what most of the people i know from this "community" think?

you got the biggest one. it's not supposed to be painful to read but, you could just have give your advice or anything but instead... you say things like that. looks mrpirate's post, he may thinks the same as you but he says it a better way don't you think?

you know im not blind, you made maps, mods, other things, and your advice is important to me and so you are important for this community. i'll never say bad things about u'r work. however, i've got a big problem with your way of saying things...

you are just so uncool... and i deeply , really , think it. (note that im not saying it's what other peoples think)

Go play another game and brag about shooting in that,

---i like this game, i play it, mind your own business.

Renegade takes absolutely no skill to play

---i not agree, no comment...

which is why it's overly populated with people younger than 13

---lol... i know some 13 years old (and younger) players that plays good...and got interesting things to say... wtf is that comment you made? i mean... can't you just see that what you said right here suck?

there's no challenge involved in controlling your weapon and its accuracy

---may not be the hardest one but, i simply not agree.

Nice try, but anyone impressed by this load of bullshit seriously sucks at the game and at FPS games in general

---nice try, but anyone who agree with what you said here are wrong. (well, just saying what i think) actually i wasn't waiting for you to comment my video ack...but someone else...go finish that mod already and not loose time with me talking about a shitty video...

for kanezor: it's ok, you can agree with him.no problem.

well, think that's it for today. waiting for your kind answer.

(sorry if it's sometime hard to understand what i wrought)

Getting that kind of k/d isn't hard in a public server. I have games going 100 to 1 or even 2 just with an apc.

Getting that k/d sniping in n00bstories doesn't mean you are good at the game tbh. i could easily go 100/1 in n00bstories with my eyes closed.

Anybody with half a brain cell can get a high k/d in a public server and it doesn't mean they are good at the game. Especially n00bstories where the players are notorious for standing still the majority of the time.

Like i said before i could easily get 100/1 in any public server but do i say that makes me good at the game?

One person posts a sniping video and ACK can't stand that he isn't at the center of attention so he says this game takes no skill etc...

Clanwars people are known for their immaturity and arrogance but i have never seen anyone as immature as ACK.

HEY YOU SUCK AT THIS GAME IT TAKES NO SKILL LOOK AT MY SCREENSHOTS I AM GOOD LOL.

Orca is easier to get that k/d and snipers are even easier. It's just gay that you have to refill every so often that i don't bother. I guess i can take a SS of next time i get in a pub server of a good k/d ratio if it'll make you happy.

In non00bs it's easy to get such a K/D. Every game there's about 6 people pulling down that kind of ratio, because 95% of the people who play there have no idea what they're doing.

One-on-ones really prove nothing in FPSs. Especially Renegade. The possible exception to the rule is Counter-Strike, since it's only loosely "team based" and more about who can shoot straighter.

It's not hard to get a good k/d with any unit if you are half decent. Knowing what to do in Renegade at the right time isn't too hard. I'd say this game takes a fair bit of skill. Sniping really well does too, but nothing like other games. In bf2 long range shots you actually have to anticipate bullet drop after certain distances, lean targets and so forth. Picking people off like flies in Renegade takes skill, but it takes even more in other games.

Edit: Regarding 1v1s, they do prove something. Sometimes you need to play solo and ignore everything about your team because they're so incredibly horrible. Lone wolf play is almost like a 1v1 and is still an aspect of this game that takes skill. 1v1s show one's ability to play in almost every aspect of this game excluding teamwork.

Granted you're correct about the difference between ability and skill, sniping in many games (specifically ones without physics like BF2) still relies a lot on ability rather than skill. You can know a map like the back of your hand, but if you and another sniper are facing off, it really comes down to who will get the shot off first.

Also, the reticle in Renegade seems to require more accuracy in order to make a good shot than in other games. For example, Halo has a small circle as opposed to a single dot. The circle doesn't give a much bigger margin for error, but it is more nonetheless. So if a person's sniping involves a bunch of spastic jumping and haphazard shooting with low accuracy, yeah I see how that can be cheap. But the video had enough one-hit kills for it to draw my attention however much.

The consecutive kill parts were also enough for any montage, so why bash it just cause "sniping requires no skill?" If anyone else got 5+ kills in a row with an Automatic Rifle, I'd still think it was fairly impressive.

I have to agree with Aircraftkiller as renegade really doesn't take much skill to be good. The fact that guns shoot where they're pointing even when holding down the button makes it extremely easy. As with tanks, it's just a matter of getting used to aiming in front of them or behind them or wherever. The fact that there's little skill doesn't dismiss the fact if it's fun or not, however. It's just that generally anyone can become good at it if they actually tried.
