Just give it a little try. It's a haunted house. It's not done but this is just a little idea i was messing around with and it some how turned into a haunted house... so there you go give it a try and tell me what you think. I most likely wont up date it but try it anyways.

From what i could see when it wasnt crashing it looked cool, with the ghost havoc and stuff. But every time i turn and look at certain things my renegade crashes, anyone else have the same problem?

i walked it all out, no problems here. The only thing i can think of is that i havent updated to the newest scripts yet. But i doubt there is anythign in there that would do it.

this map reminds me of my halloween maps...hehe

Ok I think I fix the problem. I just finished up loading the fixed one. I also fixed my missing texture.

Oh and Oblivion165 did you ever finish or release that tutorial about advanced bot ai? I really want that so i can finish work on my renegade theft auto map. lol heres some pics of my work that I plan on turning into renegade theft auto.

This is my work cept that camaro someone else did that.
these pics were taken in 3ds max 8

Does it actually look like this in-game?

Although the map design itself seems to be fairly simple, it looks good.
