I tried reinstalling and got a new problem, RG won't find Ren.

I get the error message in the picture below. I have tried removing the (tm) and selecting the correct folder manually, but nothing works.

The game is a fresh install, tried reinstalling it three times, no files in the directories except the original ones.

I am having this same problem. I have just installed the game the other day, using the First Decade disk, I tried removing the (tm) aswell but I still keep getting that same message.

And also, Now I cant even open the game even for single player. because It says something like "error loading renguard.dll. Please make sure renguard is installed properly"

Please someone tell me how I can fix this problem because I very much enjoy playing on the Jelly-Server, however, I cant because I dont have Renguard.

I think the RenGuard 1.03 installer always wants you to install to C:. You could try the manual install.

also I will point out that you should install patch 1.037 BEFORE trying to install renguard

I've installed to D: several times without incident.

On several different machines I have it installed on C:, D:, F: and even I:, never had problems with it
