Why the fuck does that matter? Usually gaming communities are sausage fests, anyways. It's not unusual for a community to be made up of mainly males. Also, yes, there ARE more females here besides Crimson.

Think this is bad? Someone started a dating thread in the Xfire forums. It went off-topic within about 3 posts. I think it's currently about cheese, or something. For some reason most of the threads that go off-topic in the RSE go to cheese...

I don't really like cheese much, but for example Gouda is pretty good. I find that european cheese is usually better than american. Swiss chese is probably the best.

One more thing. In my former country, people make cheese from Sheep milk!! I am dead serious! My country is probably the ONLY country in the world that uses Sheep milk to make cheese. I wish you could try it, it is quite good.

Not especially surprising that there's one of these threads, since so many little players out there are just now getting their hormones to kick in.

Kinda interesting though, cause I saw some article about how gamers react when they play girls, especially when they get beat. There's apparently a surge in female gamers recently and people can get really mad when they get owned by someone they didn't know was female until the end of the match.

Personellement, je pense que je pourrais très bien me faire passer pour un français. Enfin soit, vous pouvez effacer ceci, ce n'est pas en anglais .

Anyone said France?

Me, I come from France. Lively France! Personally, I think that I can pass for a French person very well . At last be, you can obliterate this, this is not in English.

Lies!!!

On a related subject, the cheddar my mother buys from the local store is like dried glue when cold. Except that at least glue is usually water-soluable, which makes glue easy to clean off of dishes.

(Something) from Russia, (Something) see me speak (something) Russian?

I could be wrong. I don't speak Russian, I'm just using my Bulgarian skills to translate best I can. Of course there are several Huge differances...

For example, "Grozny" means "Great" in Russian, but means "Ugly" (Plural) in Bulgarian...

My guess is that "liquid" is supposed to be "fluid" or "fluent".

Do you allways trust people that you talk through the internet? If I tolld you that am a hot chick, would you believe me? Would you believe if Crimson tolld you that she is actually a man that pretends to be a woman? Would you believe if Goztow tolld you that he lives in France? The point is, you don't know if people on the internet are telling the truth.
My profile says that I live in Toronto, but no one can prove it, not even I. So as far as anyone is concerned, I could be from London.

Do you understand the concept of sarcasm?

You've just gg'd!

Yes, I do, but since in the real world, EVERYONE takes me 97% seriously (even when I am joking), so I have started taking everyone 97% seriously too.

Ever since I moved to Canada, I can't even make fun of people because they take it seriously 97% of the time. SO for me, if there is no visual indication (for example smiley), I take almost everything 97% seriously.
