This doesn't belong in this category.

It's the numpad keys, and you need to have CP2 (I think) installed.

It's somewhere in the scripts file, I think. Someone more knowledgeable about the technical aspect can

This is a bit obvious perhaps, but you know in 1st person view you won't see anything. You have to be switched to 3rd person to see anything.

If none of that works, you're a freak. God is probably punishing you for your sins by taking away your ability to bow, kick, and salute in game.</sarcasm>

Keep in mind some characters simply can't do it. If you're playing as Sakura or Hotwire, neither of them will do it. Still, it should work with the males... Wonder what's wrong.

depends which skeleton the model uses. Only the default (s_a_human) has the animations available to do the gestures

It's part of SSAOW/Dragonade. Only the male characters (and the regular PIC Sydney) can do taunts in the most recent SSAOW release, as taunts were originally only done for characters with the male bones. The newest version of Dragonade has a few taunts for female characters, but you'd have to ask Whitedragon when that'll be released in SSAOW.

what you need is a few client fixes from black-cell.net.

hang on while i find the linl straight to the download.

edit: <http://black-cell.net/clientscripts.zip>

enjoy!
