Just a suggestion- maybe, if you can, someone could make something so when you have your crosshair on a vehicle and u say "vehicle spotted" or something it would show up on the radar for a short period of time. If some one could make this server side some how it would be really cool. eh?

not really.

people will always aim at vehicles, which will flood the server with constant 'vehicle spotted' messages.

You add a timer so that the same vehicle cannot be spotted again for a minute. I'm sure what they are talking about is a system similar to BF2, where you look at a vehicle and press... Q? and then a menu pops up and you choose Vehicle Spotted. This vehicle then shows up on all allied radar so especially AA can shoot down the planes.
