can someone explain to me how i can make use of crashdump.txt

i.e. how i can use the error codes given in the file to locate the problem in my scripts.

any comments welcome

ah yea, i guess that was expected, hmm i can't see my knowledge of assembly being adequate to make use of the crash file, but hey, if it doesnt put you out do you think you could explain it anyway and il see what i can make of it.
