since i copied the renegade game from another computer (because installer wont work on this 1 due to "Setup.exe failed to initalize (0xc0000006)" error) can somebody post their always.dat onto a website or somewhere that i can download it from?
thanks!!!!

you do realise always.dat is 550mb, right? It would take hours for someone to upload that to a website.... can't you copy always.dat from the same computer you got game.exe from?

then your connection has a very good upload speed.... most home connections only have about 300kb upload, on which it would take hours...
