Hello All...

I have been using Renguard for awhile without any problems until my favorite server put up a new map. So I downloaded the Core 1, installed it. Used Renguard to install Core 2. Now when I connect to a server it boots me within 10-20 seconds stating that I have a corrupt game.exe and booted for cheating.

Reading Core 2's faq it states that a no-cd version of the game.exe is installed. I have an original Renegade disk. Installed to the new version before installing renguard. Is there a possible work around to this?

Thanks for your time.

When you load up RenGuard does it auto launch Renegade? Some times when RG is checking your files and you have AL turned on it joins before RG has finished searching.

Turn off AL and press Renegade after about 15 secs that should fix it.

The mentioned setting to auto-run Renegade has never been enabled, and I verified that the setting is still disabled. Thanks for the response though!

Then just wait 10 seconds longer before you click Renegade. That should fix your problem.
