Thumbs down to the UNRULES server, yeah, but not for the reasons stated here.

You ARE NOT banned, so there's nothing to lift.

Don't want to get Renguard? Too bad, because it looks like it's the only way you're going to be able to play there. Why you'd want to play there is beyond me.

Uncalled for? For whatever reason, you got three people suspicious with you. It could be just because you're so good at Renegade, but judging on how you handle your keyboard, I'd say not. It makes no difference who's team you're on. If your suspicious at not running RenGuard, you're going to get a !forcerg.

Anyway, your on the wrong forum. Take your bitching to the UNRULES website, but they'll probably just tell you the same thing I told you.

I wouldn't care more about "UNRULES" if they started to "RULE"..
They should be known more as "LAGRULES" kthx ok, ok, ok.

now, i suppose, is the time 2 apollogize for what i all said.

but not really.

this is the link i got when i klikced onto unrules.

i have rg now, tho as much as i hate it i use it.

UNRULES runs renguard, thats y i posted in this section called RENGUARD NETWORK BANS.

i didnt realize this wasnt a ban, tbh i never play in servers where morons use lforcerg, cept unrules.

i suppose i shuld have just came in here and asked politly what to do, but i was so pissed off when that happend because i made another nick to get in and the same damn guy forced me. and again and again and again. [BA]furrbarred i think, tbh he is a moron.

But i actually thank those that posted, i might have lerned something.

This is just for future reference then.

The Renguard network and the servers are two completely different things. When a server bans you, you are banned only from the server, and can no longer join only that server.

If you were to be banned from the Renguard Network, you would not be able to join ANY server that ran Renguard. Only a select few who administer the actual network can ban people from it, and usually only for extreme reasons.
