I'd love to find that too. I'm positive it never made it to the public though.

I've seen it in the mod Sole Survivor, but I don't think it was this original model. It looks JUST like it though.

The one is sole survivor isn't the one westwood made. It looks pretty close though.

At the moment that weapon starts firing, the clip slices deep into your wrist (see picture). Even in terms of Renegade's crappy physical laws this doesn't fit.

Somehow everything that looks non-standard gets rated as better...

I think it looks much better than what's in Renegade now.. They should of kept this rifle for GDI and used the other one for nod.

Also, I don't think this was ever confirmed to be a rifle. It looks like an automatic shotgun to me.

That Initiate looks like he's dancing...

I think the model looks like the current Grenade Launcher thing. I can't tell anyway, I'm not a weapons guy.

Here's the video he's referring to. Pay attention to around 1:43 for definitive proof that it was originally a shotgun during some middle-alpha/beta whatever period (Havoc was still Logan's model), and 2:43 for the very end of the reload animation. link

And here's a video of Sole Survivor's imitation, where it was used as an auto rifle (and no, I'm not using FR, Team Dri Reign just left that gun at 999/999 for some odd reason). link

Edit: fixed a link
