I think it is all in SSAOW except for BlazeRegulator.

It doesn't matter if there is another server or not, people will still play on their regular servers that they play on a daily basis. Besides the fact that Tanner is creating a server that may or may not get players, it doesn't matter, because it is a good learning experience.

www.brenbot.com

the brenbot download includes ssaow, which includes crates. brenbot IS blaze regulator before you ask, and that's what does the commands.
