<http://www.n00bstories.com/irc.php>

If it doesn't happen in the forums, it happens in the n00bstories IRC channel!

Server: irc.n00bstories.com
Channel: #n00bstories

Several community channels are also hosted here. Type /list while you're connected to see what else is available.

Has such, I would like for all to know before their joining into #n00bstories, that I am officially taking the position of "IRC NAZI".

:twisted:

Sk8rRIMukI'm not to good with MIRC could you tell me how do you do thoue colored messagde

Press CTRL-K, then select a color. Press CTRL-K and close the color box without picking a color to stop the selected color.

Sk8rRIMuk and is there a command to type in to the server to see all the chanel...

If you come in, be prepared to have your connection reset. That is all.

revenukemine says connection refused to all servers.. why is it saying that?

Try using a different port:

/server irc.n00bstories:6668
/server irc.n00bstories:7000 < i usually use this port

The TeamSpeak server is mentioned at <http://www.n00bstories.com/nsforums.php>, however no address is provided. So until someone clears that up (either removes the mention of TeamSpeak or adds an address), I think it should be mentioned that the n00bstories TeamSpeak is located at teamspeak.n00bstories.com.

Wouldnt it be nice to list all the IRC networks that the Renegade World is based on in this topic aswell?

Indeed, I already know about that, the wiki is great, but I think people trust forums more then they do with an wiki and the fact that this is meant to be be the "official" forum also adds to the power of updating this topic or having a new topic that shows all long standing community's for everyone to see.

Optical Gaming is mainly a Counter-Strike: Source community, They don't have a Renegade server anymore.

If they did, you would be seeing a War Craft 3 mod server.
