It depends on your internet connection, however, changing your IP won't make any difference to people connecting to your server.

Are you behind a router, because if you are, that's your problem. You need to forward ports in the router (specifics can be found around this forum or at www.portforward.com) to your servers internal IP.

You can only change your IP if you get a dynamic IP from your ISP. To call for a new IP, just redial to your ISP (turn computer off (direct connect) or restart your router (LAN)).

Doesn't you server ban by nick too? You should try to get it to ban by serial aswell, extra security from cheaters.

Hmm Funny how one day your caught hacking, then you want to change your IP so it will "Fix your FDS" tho that is utterly bullshit.

How would changeing your IP "fix" your server? Please, Do explain.

even if you don't cheat, you can hardly blame us for being skeptical when we get the same 'zomg my brother/cousin/dog/rabbit haxxed my game and got me banned' stories week in week out, and then you come trying to find out how to change your IP.
