The Witch is dead. Which old Witch? The Wicked Witch!

Ding Dong! The Wicked Witch is dead.

Wake up - sleepy head, rub your eyes, get out of bed.

Wake up, the Wicked Witch is dead. She's gone where the goblins go,

Below - below - below. Yo-ho, let's open up and sing and ring the bells out.

Ding Dong' the merry-oh, sing it high, sing it low.

Let them know

The Wicked Witch is dead!

As Mayor of the Munchkin City, In the County of the Land of Oz, I welcome you most regally.

But we've got to verify it legally, to see

To see?

If she

If she?

Is morally, ethic'lly

Spiritually, physically

Positively, absolutely

Undeniably and reliably Dead

As Coroner I must aver, I thoroughly examined her.

And she's not only merely dead, she's really most sincerely dead.

Then this is a day of Independence For all the Munchkins and their descendants

If any.

Yes, let the joyous news be spread The wicked Old Witch at last id dead!

Saddam has been executed. kekekeke ^_^

Yeah rejoice that he has been executed and rightly so.

But so far we have 2 sad fuckwits that want to see it????

Flood and Bal, you lower yourselves to the gutter.

You want to see piss and shit run down someones leg, to see the eyes bulging and bursting out the head, the tongue almost black in colour? You want to see the neck at a grotesque angle where the noose has broken the upper spine?

Were you wanting to watch the twitching and kicking of a body in its death throes?

Truly there are some sad fucks that get their kicks out of watching people die. Never did I expect to read it from both of you.

You 2 are the type of people that I tell politely "Fuck Off" when I see you hanging around any of my Fires where bodies are involved or at any of the Road traffic Crashes that I attend.

Seeing someone in their final death throes, is not a pretty sight nor should it be openly publicised. I see death on a regular basis, its not nice, its very traumatic to the witness, but we have to live with it, as its my job. However to want to see death, is way beyond me.

Most of you accept, without question, what has happened in history, without visual proof.

Im afraid you may have to accept this death, without visual proof also.

I'm guessing that his head was covered. I heard that he died "instantly".

I want to see the bastard getting his just desert. Throughout history, public hangings were quite the spectacle. Men, women, and children gathered to watch convicted criminals pay the price for what they have done. I don't see them as sick in the head, and neither does history.

Supporting the killing of those "silly people" makes it all better, right? That's the way to draw out the war. If the Sunnis want the Americans out, let us "stabilize" the government and get out. Nobody wants to see our troops staying in Iraq. I just don't want them to leave too quickly.

Wait until its in "YOUR FACE" and you smell the shite as it lies in a pool around them. Then you have to roll them over to let Forensics have a closer look. You boke and choke, you dry retch, boak, boak, boak, as you smell the shit again and again and again.

Then your family ask, "Daddy did you have a good day at work?"

As you say "I seen an Evil Bastard die by hanging, but wait!!! here are the pictures".

THE GUY WAS AN EVIL BASTARD AS WERE HIS HENSCHMEN, we grieve for none of them.

God will not accept them, nor will he accept those that watch, rejoice, celebrate.....Christians!!!! I think not.

I have to live with what I have seen but I dont wish to see it on purpose.

Neither do I believe that you will truly get any satisfaction out of watching "The bastard die" unless you have family that died in that lone forsaken country.

RIP, all you fellow warriors. It was not, to be my time to serve, Queen and Country, I served between wars, but justice has still not been served.

May all the Warriors have a moment of peace in their fitfull dreams.

Maybe they will be horrified and wish they had never seen it, maybe they will think its amusing and discover that they are what society would consider a "sick" person. Either way its their choice to as to what they want to experience.

Its human nature to be curious about the unknown, especially things that are considered taboo or grotesque.

Saddam needed a public excution to ensure that proof is given that he is really gone.

He was an evil bastard and deserved no respect from anybody, Steve Irwin on the other hand is pretty much a hero of mine and I would still be interested to view both videos assuming the family released the footage of events leading up to Steve's death as well.

I don't see the problem, puddle don't really see how you can go on about people not looking at death if that's something you choose to do regularly as part of your job.

I see death as part of a job. A job that someone has to do.

What I do not do, is to actively seek ways of seeing a person die. Thats is what people who are "sick in the head" do.

Thats what I think of anyone looking to view Saddams death.

He deserved to die, no doubting that, but to have people searching and watching his death video, well thats a pretty pathetic individual.

Families of those that died at his bidding, may rejoice at the video, that is understandable.

What I cannot understand is why anyone not related to the incident wants to watch.

But hey!! Everyone to his own, no one will stop you viewing the video if you want to get a kick out of life, in that manner.

You get more closed-minded every day. Just because you can't understand the curiosity and interest (not enjoyment) of individuals does not mean that they are sick in the head. Judging from the posts here, it's about 50/50 as to who think it's disgusting and those who want to watch the video. Maybe "people like me" aren't so twisted, after all.

Unfortunately this seems to be true. There are a lot of torrents I have seen of this too with 800-1000+ seeders. I see this as a very sad thing personally but I guess all of those people are just curious. I had to see it to believe it, But there is more bullshit about him being taunted before he got hanged.

I mean, He Murdered innocent children and gays/gals because he was a bastard, And I'm glad he is gone.

But I was talking to my brother and he said "two wrongs don't make a right, He should have been locked up for life, and Gaven the option to kill himself (Like a rope or a knife)"

But I think it will do alot of people good knowing he is gone for good.

Apparently it is when you murder thousands of your own people for the sake of keeping power and wealth into your own hands.

Death may have been inevitable. The point being "hanging" and inevitable.

Are you suggesting that Saddam knew from the day he was born that he would die from hanging?

Either you can see into the future or you talk a lot of shite. Go and wipe your mouth with some toilet tissue.

You all are so full of it, you post just to fight. J_ball never said hanging was inevitable. He said death was. So you assumed just to start a fight it was hanging that was inevitable.

This whole part is getting annoying. Seems to happen a lot on these forums.

This isnt about YOU TALKING SHIT

This was about viewing someone hanging. Viewing for curiosity or thrills.

However it would appear that in any adult discussion, particularly on any forum, that if an opinion conflicts with any other opinion, that said person is talking shit!!

Yes thats big and brave of you. It is what we come to expect in life from a 10 year old kid, who cannot see beyond his own reasoning.

Try this for thought on any subject on the forum!!!!

Who of us, percentage wise, have come away from the forum with a different belief from whence we entered?

Some of us, myself included may have partially modified our ideas, thoughts and opinions, however that does not mean that my opinion has changed.

So come on, feel free to reply to any topic. Only requirement is to do it in your own words, without copying it straight out of a book, verbatim. "In your own words" demonstrates that you have an understanding of your opinion.

Back on topic!!!

Now that some people have viewed the video out of morbid curiosity, would you watch another live video of someones death or has that curiosity been fulfilled?

Depends, if its a suicide or murder caught on tape I will choose not to view it out of respect. But if its an execution of a murderer who kills out of selfishness and greed or a dictator who kills thousands for self accommodation, then I have no qualms about watching it, because they deserve no respect.

This topic is not about respect. Its about the watching of a live death.

However, you did answer in your own words.

Does it bring some sort of closure to yourself as regards Saddam? What did you personally gain from watching a "snuff movie"? How did you feel after it? Why do you feel that way after viewing it? Why do you feel that you have to watch anymore deaths?

I have not viewed the video, nor feel any need to. The guy did wrong on a massive scale, he suffered the consequences. Who will be next on the video?

I quickly skimmed through the last two pages and this is all I have to say:

Seriously just 'STFU'. I can't believe some of the people on these forums that are straight up homosexual panzys. Take the dick out from between your cheeks and stop whining about every little confrontation of violence and death and observe HUMANITY. I'm reaching a boiling point (if not already @) because of people that are pacifist/hippy.

Specifically...

This guy tortured innocent people - how sick is that? What benefit did that bring to humanity? So when I ask to see a video of his execution I'm suddenly sick? Eye for an eye... I wouldn't have complained if he was gassed - I strongly would have preferred that. I guess that's sick too?

No one has a problem with his execution. Humanity was being rewarded.

An eye for an eye, is all fine and well.

But the thought is why you sick bastards wanted to watch the execution.

Some people explained it as "being curious", thats fine, also.

So what seems to be your problem and where do you get the "homo-pansies" from or is this more BS on your part?

Pacifist hippys? Balls in mouth? Thats even more BS on your part. None of it makes a coherent statement. Then again, few of your statements ever do make sense.

Thats why we call this, having a discussion and thats why we have opinions.

Nah, just means you're a lightweight.

I think I made my point quite clear: the guy deserved to be gassed and got off easy with a hanging. He was executed for a reason, and I wanted to see the look on his face before they put the noose around his neck ... knowing it was his last minutes ... wondering what was going on in his mind.

WHY do you wonder? What will it achieve for you? Where are you going to look for more videos?

What did you learn about his last thoughts? Why do you personally need to know his thoughts? Had you found out his thoughts, what would you have done with them?

If any of your family had been killed, directly or indirectly at his hands or his soldiers, then I can understand the feelings, but if not.....

Just when we thought it was over, I opened the newspaper and read some tragic news.

2 kids, aged 9 from Texas and the other aged 10 from Pakistan, died after attempting to reconstruct the hanging of Saddam.

It states that they had both seen the video and were killed in a tragic accident, whilst hanging from their bedroom ceiling.

Yeah, I know they were young and impressionable, just as I know that you are all older and wont attempt it.

But its still very tragic that 2 recorded deaths could have been prevented by not showing the video. At that age you have to question parental control, even if we cannot observe the children at all times, something needs to be done to prevent these accidents.

Any ideas?

I have spent time in the Persian Gulf (active duty military), nearly lost my life in combat, and have had friends (not family) that died due to shitheads LIKE him (not necessarily him). To me, watching the video shows me justice and that going into Iraq for no other reason but to capture and hang that dirtbag was worth it.

XPtek knows all about self sacrifice and living outside the saftey of his mommy's house, so I should give two shits what he has to say about my views on true justice...

Tragic, but I think at their age they're smart enough to know that it would kill them. They may have been a bit ignorant about getting out of the situation, but I definitely would NOT blame the media for their death.

I'd say to blame it on the parents but the kids probably saw it on the internet or something. Kind of why I wouldn't think the video would be allowed on the forums with kids around since if I had a kid, I wouldn't want him/her to watch it if i could try.

This game is rated for teens, so anybody under the age of 13 shouldn't be on here... not to mention that Renegade is about killing and destruction. If any kid that's impressionable and is on here is not the problem of the admins, mods, or the community.

The fact is, we see ever worsening parenting. People scream foul when something happens to kids, but where are the parents? The media and government is not responsible for raising our children. Some of our parents, and our grandparents grew up without television and video games to assist the learning of children. Parents have it easy, and they seem to think that they shouldn't be there except to discipline their kids, so when their kids see/learn about bad things, they blame everything around them. When you point a finger, 3 are pointing back at you.

Censorship is a farce.

If you want to give your opinion on things I'm 100% OK with that as anyone of any age has that right. But the way you present your opinions are as fact and you flame me for mine when I have justification for my beliefs as I have the life experiences you do not.

It WAS worth thousands of lives to accomplish that mission because (a) all of those people swore and oath and knew ahead of time they could die in the line of duty (b) I spent 5+ years in military intelligence and have seen more "reality" than you could have possibly seen on your CNN.

Yeah, and that sure makes every invasion okay. I'm not sure if you have other friends/family in the military, but for most of them it's definitely not worth it. Not everyone is okay with mindlessly fighting an immoral war.

How does this make the war worth it? You need to collect your thoughts a little more, because you seem to be rambling quite a bit.

why is your every post targeting flood. you hardly ever respond to anyone elses. you inlove with the guy?

It's because fl00d3d makes it a habit of forming an opinion, but has some ridiculous reasoning for it. His views align with mine a lot of the time, but his support of his views are skewed by a lot of things, and as xptek mentioned, he ties his military experience into everything as if it's an excuse. That and xptek just thinks fl00d3d is an idiot.

Did the War in Iraq not involve an invasion to enter the country due to the fact that there were no troops in Iraq prior to the declaration of war?

Incuse you still think it's those evil unpatriotic LIEberals, here are the definitions of invasion:

So... sending troops into a country WITHOUT that country's permission isn't invading? What would you call it, then?

Edit: If you don't think that we invaded Iraq, then Germany didn't invade Poland, Belgium, France, Russia, Africa...

No, but I don't think it was our place to invade and remove him from power. If the United States really gave a shit about genocide we would've gotten rid of him the first time he killed his own people. Then again, if the United States gave a shit about genocide we'd probably be doing something in Darfur.

if im not mistaken the first time we couldnt do that. also if the UN was really about what they say they are they would have taken care of Sadam long time ago instead of a gazillion resolutions to solve the problem.

whether in right or wrong about the rest im sure the familys and people who were tortured under Sadam would disagree with you. I'm sure their happy he is gone.

The kids rule the forum!!

let them be.

As our Parents said to us "When you grow up, you will see what I meant".

In 20 years time I hope I dont have to say "My Sons died in the war against Iraq" to kill one mad-man.

Especially when "WE" should have done it "Then"!!

BUT!! Do I want them to see,"the bastard that ordered thousands killed", die with a noose around his neck?"

No!!! he should have been shot first time around.

I see the look on the U.S.M.C. soldier as he says "We should have have killed him the first time"

To know that his Son and friends died and suffered for their countries virtues is saddening, yet you make a joke of the (war, battle, fued, invasion) call it what you want, when many died for one persons death. Yet you still want to see his death video.

I believe another video has just been released as regards "him" lyeing on the floor, after he croaked it.

How much is enough, before you call yourself a truly, sick, sad, ghoul?

Whats next watching him being buried??? Think about this, the next time you have to bury "anyone".

My words will haunt you. You will see it and remember what you associate death with!!

Death = let us laugh!!! I believe not, but then again, as the 2nd last person of my mother/fathers family, I am nearer to to death than most of you are.
