Xwis is very unstable lately. During the last 2 weeks it has had rather all too regular outtimes. Any info on this?

Oh, I thought this was going to be a dictionary entry.

Would this dictionary entry read:

Xwis: Unstable

Or

Unstable: Xwis

I'll second that. Been down twice, already, today.

I explained to EA what happens to a Renegade server when XWIS goes down, but they are not at all interested in changing anything. I really need to get a hold of a computer that has the problem with WOLProxy so everyone can use it. Anyone who is using my version of WOLProxy (and of course anyone who has a similar solution) should remain online during these annoying outages.

Someone also needs to fix the new account creation page. The way you do it now is just silly.
