Have you tried re-downloading it? Your download might have been corrupted...

Go in taskmanager and see if there are two brenbot.exe
If yes: endtask the one with the least memory usage. This sometimes fixes the prob.

Check to see if you have those files in your BRenBot folder, if you don't then it's probably my installer being completely useless (wouldn't surprise me tbh ^^)

Well, the full version worked for me.. Maybe he is using an old version or something, the old version took a litle bit of time for the text to pop up on the console, so maybe he is impatient?

Make sure each one is using different ports, make sure the FDS directory is right, etc.

If it doesn't work, copy and paste your other brenbot files into this one, and reset the settings, should work.

Are you using a shortcut to launch it? Maybe try launching it by double clicking the .exe instead..
