Hey guys,

I recently watched some video's of various players playing renegade on various servers and thought it would be interesting if I made my own. So I got fraps, a video compression tool and a video editing tool and decided to record some material. Well, I put it all together and uploaded it on youtube.

Anyway, all the links are below, tell me what you think about everything, keeping in mind first video's ever made/editing and uploaded. Also, unlike all the other renegade video's, notice how I have no advantage skins? Something apparently im the only one doing nowadays i didn't know you exploit the map, then tell others how to do it. just as bad as cheating IMO.

Umm....I think everyone knows you can do that, someone tries that atleast 5 times everyone Jelly goes on Field.mix. My point is that I beilve that, that is a map exploit and people should stop doing it and it should be fixed. And considering BI has the same mindset, it always is fixed (to some extent) but the majority of cw.cc players apparently disagree with me and say thats perfectly fine, so I made this video to prove 'em wrong, and bam the first person to see it calls it an exploit so the video did its job

It's not an exploit (not in my mind) it just stops the AGT from shooting at you because the building's in the way. Hell, i do the same thing with the obelisk and hand (certain maps, Glacier for one) get the globe of the hand between the LoS (line of sight) of the obelisks tip and you and you can make it to the hand, just beware of the turret.

However, what you've just done is what that guy done to kill your ref when you were playing 1v1 with him. You said he wall jumped then started moaning about something or other.

Im not talking about other maps, I made this server on LAN, so I didn't do it for my advantage. The header reads, "Field.mix Exploit Debate", because I think its an exploit (or otherwise BI would not waste their time fixing this and many other reasons). This video obviously does show how to do it, but like I said before everyone knows this already so im sure its not a big shock (as Mero explained on other maps aswell). So basically my argument is saying this shouldn't be allowed, so I have no idea where you got the idea im FOR this?

In my mind it should be allowed. What's the point in using strategy when you can't use buildings to your advantage?

Same as harvy walking, ever seen those spy thriller movies where the spy infiltrates the enemy base through a vehical? Weather that be inside, ontop, underneath or to the side, it's just the same. He still gets in and no-one knows about it.

jelly has too many people that just run around shooting in the air. plus it lags.

i have seen people plant a nuke at the ref. but if i saw them attempting it i would kill them. so i wouldn't really know.

If a picture is worth a thousand words, then a video is worth ten thousand words.

Somebody just said "douchebag" about fifty thousand times.

Edit: (from his website)

Renegade Background: trooprm1's uncle from Austria received the full release of C&C Renegade before the North American release date, and I required it from him. He installed it at his house, and we both played our first ever map there (Glacier Flying). We were just using an MRL to attack the ob, no one was really doing anything consider it was new at this time and no exceptionally good players existed. Anyway, we got MVP that game and I got hooked so I took it home and we played in the same server while talking over the phone. This time I got MVP again, (Walls) and I remember being alot better than everyone in that entire server (at this point I was playing 1st Person, no skins were avaible, and I didn't know how to even take a SS) which got me thinking about how far I could take myself with this game. I soon after relized I appearently had a natural talent for Renegade, and eventually ended up joining the +ILL+ clan which also first got me thinking about playing for more competitivness instead of just fun. I was the #1 sniper in the clan, one of the highest ranked players on WOL, and an overall recognized player. In any case, +ILL+ was the best clan out there at that time, untill it died, and thats when [+TRPM+] was born. And I have sworn in the past that I will be the last Renegade player in all of the community, even after everyone has left, and thats exactly what I plan to do.

Well, I guess the "douchebag" part was confirmed, haha. Also, Glacier Flying did not exist in the release version of this game, dumbass. Aircraft killer fixed it up and it was released in a patch about a year after Renegade came out.

Eh, okay douchebag, why don't you shove that pole a bit further up your ass?

I actually have been playing this game since release. Did you know that the flying maps weren't even around (thus, no Orcas) until three or so months after release? No, not even City_Flying nor Walls_Flying existed when Renegade was released.

Also, did you know that Renegade was released February 27, 2002? That's nearly five years ago. I'm 20 now, and have been playing this game since I was 15. You're... 17 now?... and thus, had you actually been playing since release, you would have been 12. I doubt it, especially considering your lack of knowledge of the game's early days.

I also was a beta tester for ACK's revision of Glacier_Flying. Mind you, this beta test was conducted many months after Renegade came out, like I initially said. I found several bugs and sent screenshots to ACK, who fixed them.

And no, Glacier_Flying was certainly not available to the beta testers of Renegade (pre-release). In fact, if I recall correctly, they only had four or five actual maps for their multiplayer tests. Ask Crimson or any other beta tester.

You are right in that a "Chinese guy" from Westwood did the initial modeling work for Glacier_Flying, but he didn't complete any texturing of the map. Once Westwood shut down, however, Aircraftkiller got in contact with the map creator and he managed to get the creator to send him the unfinished map files. There are a few other maps from the former Westwood employee that ACK finished, such as C&C_Snow (I believe), but the only map to be released in an official patch was C&C_Glacier_Flying.

So go fuck yourself, douchebag.

Too long, but I think I can guess what your saying. Basically, you have no idea and i do believe ACK DOES have just a little bit more knowledge about that map (agreed?). I dont feeling like digging up the topic but he said before it was flying, they (WS), released a map called "glacier" for the beta testers althought it was about 95% finished. Im sure crimson or some other beta tester can verifi this, cuz ACK is banned now. Anyway, I was MRL on that map and dont recall any flying vechiles, so it could have been just "glacier", meaning I also could have been playing it before release because I did have it at the time. Yeah, it can only be expected that a shithead like you would precisely miss the PRINCIPLE of my replies (and half the other replies you read) and instead try to generalize them as some trivial argument about which map you first played.

No, the point of the replies were to point out much of a lying, self-absorbed, cheap, paltry, worthless sack of shit you are.

It's not about who's better at Renegade or who's been playing longer. I don't need to fucking validate myself by posting retarded videos of my Orca point whoring an Airstrip.

I'm done replying to your stupid ass. So go ahead and dismiss this reply as "hurr essay reply dont deserve to be red im fukcing retaded." I have a Superbowl to get ready for.

ignore user +1

Yeah, it can only be expected that a shithead like you would precisely miss the PRINCIPLE of my replies (and half the other replies you read) and instead try to generalize them as some trivial argument about which map you first played.

No, the point of the replies were to point out much of a lying, self-absorbed, cheap, paltry, worthless sack of shit you are.

Translation:

Troop, you fuckin suck.

Now, if youll excuse me, i have a super bowl to watch.

There is already a "flame troop" topic in the hot issues forum. This doesn't need to happen again in another topic.
