OK Tanner, let's explain this a bit: using advantage skins is just as much cheating as u did before with cheat name removed , ... It gives you an unfair advantage over others, hence is cheating.

I'd argue the same with the C4 countdown beep based on that logic. I believe one of the Core Patches has it?

How many players still play with an original data folder and no modifications of any sort?

One mans advantage skin is anothers normal skin.

It just depends on your opinion.

i wouldnt know, i have not tried either of them as both are cheating... are you admitting to using them, or just trying to look clever by copying what someone else said?

CW.CCRule # 22 "Advantage skins" are no longer permitted. These include skins that are brighter than default, alternative sniper scopes, stealth effect skins, stealth tank engine sounds, and so on.
