I was trying to record something in Renegade using fraps but when I pressed F9 to record, the FPS indicator turned red for a moment and then turned back to yellow and nothing was recorded. When I took a screenshot using Fraps, it turned out black. This does not happen for other games like Generals. What's wrong?

I don't know, because it works just fine for me... what's your hardware setup?

It worked fine for me before I formatted my comp so I don't think its a problem with hardware.

I tried half size, full size everything. It doesn't work with APB as well.

reinstall fraps, and terminate all hack and other processes etc,as they may be hogging it all.
diff graphics driver?
