Hey, it's supposed that anybody can turn the hud off with the newest scripts by just typing hud 0 into the console, isn't it?

Well if so, I'm not able to turn it off, since all the hud still on (I still see credits, score, health bar status, etc)...

I also tried to turn it off by typing 0 into the registry of ren... but still nothings happens...

The scripts I've are 3.1.4 wich are currently the newest, aren't they?...

Anybody knows how to resolve this stuff, so I can turn all that stuff off, for my movie???

If you have an imaging program and can use it, extract hud_main.dds from always.dat and then make an image of the same dimensions that is entirely alpha channel, then your hud will be see-through AFAIK.

No, I cannot do this myself - I don't have the right programs.

I'm pretty sure that doesn't fix the text issue he's asking about.

Wrong. Also if you had read the topic, you'd know that it doesn't work properly anyway.

put the bandtest in your ren folder (not data), when you're ingame hit F8 and type hud, then hit enter.

you can also turn off chat by typing chat instead of hud.

also, rengaard doesn't like the file and will rewrite it with the original on startup.

have fun
