well i used to use ts quite a bit back in the days when i was in a clan. now i formatted recently and i forgot how to eliminate the noise that the mic backfeeds into ts. basically its like the mic has a direct line from all the noise in the game directly into ts. i know there was a way to eliminate it but i forgot how. like its not like my speakers are close to the mic but when i shoot or when i use commands in ren it transfers them directly into ts. and please dont say use the press a button function to talk. it stil doenst eliminate the noise that is being backfed into ts. and when you are rushing in an apc and shooting some1 you really cant hold another button to tell all the people in your apc to go into pp only lol.

any help will be appreciated.
