Ok, this is funny as hell. there were no cheats or hacks involved.

I only have 1 picture of this and its not the best one to use but its all I have.

set up the settings

Map is Field. Server is Cugs World Mine Mania. 4v3

I was an engineer in the field and I could a 10 second nuke at the weapon spawn point. great, ran back to base as fast as i could. bought a sbh to keep hidden. the other 2 players bought apc's. the apc with 1 person in ran first to take the hits and run the mines (mine limit is 75 and all where put at the front of the base)

2nd apc I am in as a passanger.

both apc's die at the 1 side of the barracks closest to the wf. i run as fast as i can to the back and survive. I then use the hump of the barracks to run to behind the pp and plant the 10 secon ion. ion goes off. low power.

then we realize that no one can see me, AT ALL, even while unstealthed. i shoot them in the head 1 time with a pistol to prove I am there. I throw c4 down on the ground, they see that. but not me. I have then get an engi to shoot front. i stand in front of the beam and they dont see me.

i literally end up having 3 people standing around trying to find me, but they cant.

a 8th person joins the server for GDI, he is able to see me with 0 problems, but the poeple still that were in the server when it started could not see me still. i tell them to kill me and I run back with another sbh, now they can see me...

IDK weirdest glitch ever. I was also on renguard and i swear I was not using cheats during this game.

idk, like i said, kinda strange.

Yea, Ive had it to, as a med tank,

You know the half-way blue hell?

My tank was like..moving half a mile a day, i couldnt see it.

Apprently, no one else could either.

So I drove it the best i could, into Nod, and blew up their PP.

Then they seen where I was, when they flashed their cross-hairs over to me, they could see my tank plain as day.

When they didnt, i was totally invisible.
