Subject: Kicked from rengaurd for Radar Hack which I don't have

Title says it all. This is just to clear things up if rengaurd logs people who get kicked from it for 'Radar Hack'. I'm having apple problems and when I minimise Renegade I can't maximise it again without Renegade closing in about 5 seconds once I've clicked maximise. During this palava, I once opened Renguard, started to run Renegade then got booted from the network whilst Renegade was loading for a Radar Hack.

I don't have a Radar Hack, it's obviously something to do with the program's detection of a Radar Hack that made it detect one. All I was running was Winamp and Renguard.

By the way, is this forum automatically changing all words 'rengaurd' to 'rengaurd'?...yup seems that way. It's also changing comput3r to apple.

Rader hack is still a touch-and-go detection area. It's still giving false positives.

Beta 6 did not come with a fix for the radar hack problem.
I believe this issue should be fixed in Beta 7, correct me if I'm wrong.

That was a more subtle part of my April Fools' pranks. It was also changing April to July.
