My IGN is Sn1per75 and I mostly play as an assault. I use an engineer the least.

I've become rather addicted to the demo of this game, and when I get bored of C&C3 I'll probably go and buy it.

I used to use Engineer all the time, but eventually I realised the rockets on the default guns in the demo were crap anyway.

I play under Maximus00, and I primarily fight as general infantry, but recently moved to engineer since I got my mine upgrades. My second favorite is the recon, mostly due to the RDX and claymores but also because in a titan siege, they are great for picking off those friggin claymores the defense forces keep throwing in front of the reactor core.

I am just now working up through the ranks and am at Master sargent gold.

Best game evar since Renegade!

If you havent tried it, please do.
