Post your Wii number if you want to share it. Also fun to set your Mii's to travel, so that they show up on your friends Mii channel and games

I'd rather people not see what I look like (I'm talking about my Mii)

My Mii looks rather close to what I look like... I called it "Crimii".

haha, not funny, just kidding. It's funny how Miis tend to look very much like the creator. Mine looks a lot like me too.

You can go into your Mii settings and toggle the settings that let your Mii travel to your friends Wii's. I think its called "Mingle" or "Travel".

Didn't we already have this thread?

And when you set your Miis to mingle, it doesn't matter if it's your friend's console or not; they'll go to anyone's.

I've had mine online for a couple weeks and have yet to see a strange Mii appear

Yeah, that's normal. It doesn't happen immediately. It's taken me about four months to have about 70 mingling Miis. You'll find them in the Mii parade when you do get them; check it every now and then.
