My BReNBot 1.50 doesnt load or something, I have no clue why, see SS below.

Keep on doing this, does anyone know a fix for this?

Thanks in advance.

Do you have perl installed on the server? You might have a version of perl installed which is incompatible with the version of perl brenbot is built to use.

How do I check it/install it?

Sorry, not that smart

If the server has a C:\Perl folder then you have perl installed.

Nope, no perl

EDIT: Just installed perl, still same error

You don't need to install perl, I was simply asking IF you had it installed.

Someone else had this problem once before, and we never figured it out... I suspect it's something to do with the server's setup that prevents brenbot from loading.

maybe you need remote access to fix it? I dont care about that, lol

Then you can check around if something is wrong, so maybe you can find a fix for this

That someone else might've been me... You said that BRenBot takes a while to load up and to just wait...

Possibly, I don't remember. I have never come across this myself, so I honestly don't know what to suggest. It works for everyone else, so perhaps something you have installed on your servers that nobody else has is causing the problem.
