Yeah I know I'm new to this forum still but. public servers arnt as fun as they were like a year ago, theres not as much teamplay.

Im looking for a clan that has a reputation of not cheating, useage of team work, doesnt demand to be a sniping expert. things like that.

WHat i can offer? well since Im new with this name not many of you have seen my game play. so I can emphasis (and you can test to see if its true) to what I say here. (and because of the test request, I'll refrain from exageration)

1: I dont cheat, peroid, its just a game and its more fun with skill instead of scripts. I am so strict on not cheating that I dont even mod the game with skins, sounds, or other cool things like that. xD my game file is completely pure.

2. Im a teamplayer, I do not come up with the plans, but I work to the plans someone else lays out. I know a good chunk of the strategies, from apc rushes, to massing all the way down to mining and building destruction.

3. I try not to lose my temper or act younger then I am. Like I said, its just a game. I would rather be noted for trying my best and losing, then cheating and screaming my way to victory.

Pros and cons in gameplay.

Pros,

I love to repair, its so easy.

I know most strategies and basic knowledge of most common maps.

I can do a average job at any unit or vehical.. average, as in, not completely noob.

I excel with engineers, soldiers, anti vehical troops, light and med tanks, and gdi apc.

I'm Ok with Nod apc, arti, and stank

I can drive, but prefer not to drive everything else (mrls are simple, but ther are a bit slow for me, flame tank physics always have confused me.. but I can drive them if not expected to do maximun damage with them)

cons,

I cant snipe for anything,

I have poor aim when it comes to enemies jumping around.

I dont like doing things solo.

And sneaking around as a sbh never was a strong point for me.. but I can sneak as a sbh (though I defend nukes, unless its a mass nuke plant I dont like planting nukes.)

xD sorry its so long. Hope it interests someone. And not saying any names we are all thinking, can we all try and stay on topic and not argue senselessly? thank you

If you got time and are willing to put effort in your recruiting + are looking for a family-type of clan with a good amount of skill but where the players come before the game, then you may want to come to us at www.thekoss2.org .

Our recruiting is currently closed but we're worth the wait. Our recruiting also takes about 2 months during which we get to know you, you get to know us and we train you. During recruiting you can play funwars (internal or external). During this period you will, hopefully, become a full part of our community.

We have mostly European players but also some USA players.

If you choose this is not your taste, then you are still free to come join our forum and game server + teamspeak to play with us .

Long posts deserve long answers .

Thanks, to both of you. xD I'll certainly look into both. tbh it is a toss up between helping a new clan gain a rep and waiting for a clan that sounds like alot of fun ^_^

<http://elitekamikazeteam.com/>

Based in the UK
Server gets many players perday (average around 30 but at peak 60)
DOESNT require sniping as a sport even though we got like 3.5 (yes 3.5) good snipers also we got many members so u may be a welcom addition

NGOD is would love you invite you to join us. Check us out, we are going to be getting a dedicated server to host some game servers this summer.

EDIT: Though...we do enjoy sniping, it's not a requirement. The only requirement is that you have a good time and play fair and don't cheat. teamwork!

-Thanks,
