I recently got A Path Beyond, and it seems that I can't play online because I haven't got the maps. I downloaded extra maps from apathbeyond.com, but I'm having trouble actually adding them. I'm not entirely sure where to put them, I tried the 'data' file, but the maps I downloaded are .exe files, while the files existing in that folder already are .mix, so I'm quite unsure as to what to do.

I'd very much appreciate some help on the matter, thanks for you time.

Also, I apologise if this is in the wrong area, but hey, we live and learn.

I believe they're self-extracting programs. Just open them and browse to the data folder, and it will uncompress the mix files there.

 its cuz when the program is extracting it extracts to C:/Westwood/A PathBeyond

but i think the orgininal directory is C:/Westwood/apathbeyond check ur Westwood folder, there should be a folder named like that (in there u may find ur maps)
