We could already do animated flags using a normal texture and making the 3d mesh move. We used WWSkin to do this. By the sound of it you have a moving texture on a flag? Anyway i'd still like to see it.

no this is mine. i SWEAR!!! besides a normal animation like cyborgCD's wont work ingame so i had to make my own in a different way. if you look at some of the models from generals they have a flag that ripples and i use that ways. that is acturally how you make rippling animation.

lol olaf.....that was my thoughts precisely.....clouds do not always move the same direction as the ground level winds are blowing.In fact sometimes clouds at different altitudes dont even move the same direction.good work Havoc 89 Eric.
