I am not sure if I posted this in the write place so please bare with me.

I was sent over here by the cool guys at Strike Team - XWIS and they said that someone here can help me out with this. They said For a server, you'd have to lease a dedicated server and run the server version of Renegade (FDS, Free Dedicated Server) on it.

This is for admin only please. My clan is wondering how we can set up a permanent server on Westwood online for Renegade? If anyone can help me with this I would be grateful. If this is not possible then can you point me to a place we I can get something done.

Thank you for your time.

^^ or you can contact me too for hosting.

AOhost is probably cheaper, but imho it's you pay for what you get in this matter.

OR you can run your own. BUT its gotta be on another computer cuz you can't start renegade while FDS is running. Unless you have Renegade running 24/7.

Or just add +multi to the shortcuts for game.exe and renegadeserver.exe

So if you add +multi you can open and close renegade while running a FDS?

Your best option is to reconsider. There's WAY too many servers already.

With that said, you would form somewhat of an alliance with a few other clans and/or communities and then pull your money together (assuming they already have server) on a single server.

off topic Why does Jelly need so many servers?
