Multiplay Online > Westwood Online > Advanced Games Listings

It will then prompt you to login, you can have up to nine letters or numbers in your name and your password MUST be exactly eight letters and numbers. If the name isn't already taken, it is then yours.

YES, I know.

This is one heck of a history lesson. I can't be bothered. Read.

Now follow what I said earlier, and you can get a nickname.

it automatically loads XWIS just go on the login screen. put your desired login name/password (8 char long i think) and click login (auto create account) the if it logs you in, the account name is available if it doesnt keep trying

Don't click any button to make a new nickname! That is what we're saying.

Just get the the screen where it prompts you to input your username and password, and do what Carrier II said above. 3-9 letters or numbers (must start with a letter) for your nickname and 8 letters or numbers for your password. If it is already taken you won't get a server listing. If it isn't you will.
