Yep you read wright.

ts Nod light infantry costume. I'm going to make one to give the terrorist scare that my Nighbourhood is severly agaist.

But, exclusively for The guy who has nod armor (Bawlo), I'm not going to use a resperater with tinted red glass.

Instead, I'll use a technic called Vacuum forming.

But enough of what i'll do. Instead i'll chalange you guys to make a tiberium dawn, sun or wars era uniform (tiberium dawn- make ones from renegade, but intead of nod red, make it gray, or low light urban camo.) It doesn't matter who you do. You can make the commando. Be Stealth black hand. Be part of the forgotten. ...and for the real fans grow and degrow hair to look like joe kucan (Kane) !

To make your ovens and vacuum formers- I don't know where to find a good web site, but you just need a shop vacuum and a cheap shove and some stuff listed in these websites. They are CHEAP to make!

For the oven Check here

For the former check here <http://www.halloweenfear.com/vacuumformintro.html>

To make molds and your new uniforms check in on

<http://www.imperial-armor.com/molds101.html>

Note: pay attention to the videos in detail. You can easy lose a $20 dollars worth amount of plastic.

I would make my own stormtrooper armor, but i know a guy who has molds from original movie costumes, so what he makes it just as good and better, he uses better plastic (thicker and glossier) and he sells the kit for 500 US dollars rather than thousands like you see, I have talked to a few people who bought from him, seen pictures, he is heavily trusted in the vacume forming world.

It's sad when people cross fiction over to their real lives. It's okay to play the game and love it, it's another thing to try to extract a minuscule amount of glee from your otherwise mundane life by playing dress-up with yourself.

Careful now, you might get arrested for being an terrorist and end up in jail in a orange jump suit with some quran bashing muslim terrorists.

Nice idea though, be cool to see the end result.

Let me tell you something, this project isnt worth it unless you will be mass making them, I tried making stormtrooper armor back then, didnt do that bad of a job, but i quit and returned alot of tools and materials because the cost is too high, you gotta buy afew hundred pounds of clay and scult the peices of armor, then you must cast molds with plaster, very hard.

You are absolutely right, Iron. We live in a different time now...unfortunately.

A couple of months ago in the USA, 3 or 4 guys (I think) got arrested. According to CNN, they were reported by neighbors for "running around in Ninja clothes." I dunno what happened to that case but tells what type of era we are living in.

But there is no reason to run into the driveway or street with the costume to show off to the neighbors. Also, with a little bit of discretion, we can be able to enjoy our HARMLESS creations and works of art in the privacy of our homes.
