Does anyone know the name of the *.dds for the exterior and interior for the GDI Power plant?

Help would be appreciated as always!

I tried searching through XCC mixer.. Found nothing. :<

It is because there is more than just one texture. Each part has its own texture. You would need to find out which textures it uses, and apply all of them to the correct part. However I don't know what the textures are.. I just felt I should tell you to look for more than 1 texture.
