I'm running a server on Hamachi. It can be marathon or a longer period (30-60 minute). Starting credit 99999. So you will never have to worry about your money again. Unlimited weapons and vehicles to buy. I have a fast internet connection, so the game will run smoothly. All you need to do is to download hamachi from:

<http://www.softpedia.com/get/Internet/File-Sharing/Hamachi.shtml>

After installation the programs icon will go to the right corner of the screen (at the clock). Open it (double click). You should see a simple silver application. In the right corner is a little triangle, click it. Then a tab will be viewable. Click on the "join an existing network", and type:

-Network Name: NoLimits!

-Password: play

It's online every day, according to GMT +1 time.

Exactly it is a virtual LAN. It's like if we would sit next too each other. Do you have a cracked (pirate) version? No Problem. Since it's LAN, nobody will see or check your serial number. Also don't worry about being hacked. Several firewalls are protecting my computer. I've just made this room for your enjoyment. Have fun!

I DON'T HAVE pirate version. I created a server that similar can't be found on other servers. I don't want anyone to "go pirate". I just want to play with my own rules. That's all. Nothing against the law. That thing with the "it doesn't matter if you have the cracked version" is just to invite players. There's nothing bad in this.

And why don't you just open a normal server then, instead of a server over Hamachi ? sorry, I don't really get it...

He's right, here. Though I doubt your hamachi server will fill up...

I don't want many players. Even 1 would be great. Because of the limitations of Hamachi free edition I can have only 16 players, but if things will go good I'll download the pro version.
