I have started to try and texture my "frst map" and i have a couple of questions: -I have followed the tutorial correctly and have now ventured into making a plane and editing the vertexes to make hills etc.I am trying to get into the W3D utility to make sure that the collison modes are right for the box which is below the plane, but in the utilites it isn't there. Have i already selected the modes -Also are there any other tips you can give to me to help me in my future Thnk you for your patience and i am sorry for asking these questions that you probably find very simple. Im sure you all know what it feels like to be a beginner too, so please be kind and lend your expirence. Thank You.

first -- go to http://modx.renevo.com/forumdisplay.php?s=&forumid=10and get renhelp 1.9this will help.Now -- what do you mean? it's not there? What's not there? The mesh? in what program? W3d viewer? Commando?are you using RenX or Gmax? -- you need to use RenX to get the w3d options... [February 13, 2003, 13:26: Message edited by: StoneRook]

Well - after you click on the utilites button - hit the "configure button sets" and see if it lists the W3D button. (should say there are 12 buttons)if it isn't there - you may need to re-install your renegade tools again.

hmm....maybe my color on my comp is weird but it is greenish-grey. It has been dark green before and it is the same interface as it was when it was dark green, but maybe the color has something to do about it....
