Pretty funny. Too bad that can't be done in the game. And even if it was, I don't see a way to get a timed or remote C4 to stick to your hand(since your mine would not kill you).

lol gotta point there.

Plus if someone had a c4 on you, you can aim at it and throw a c4, it'll attach to the c4 attached to you.

Really? How? By placing it on the front of a vehicle and them ramming someone? But that does not count.

Well lets say you're minding your business, mining the AGT and just as you place your 6th proxy I come running in. You will kill me and then kill yourself. Its a tactic I use when the GDI bar is down and theres only one hottie left, wait for the player to still mining a building or something and then run into them with my SBH.
