There's already a mod called "Scud Storm" for Renegade, which converts it to the Generals universe.

And really, if you're going to try and start your own modding team, it'd be important for you to:

- Learn how to spell
- Learn a modding skill

Also notice how most of the skill your looking for is already taken up in mods like A Path Beyond, C&C Reborn, Apocalypse Rising, etc. Starting an entirely mod and finding an entirely new team is not a good idea on the W3D engine anyway.

@Fobby: Ty for those 'kind' words You said in a more polite way I was about to say it..

@Anyone: Anyways, Scud Storm is already in existence.

@Anyone who was on Scud Storm's Dev Team: Leaving the team for a reason of "Lack of Leadership" under the circumstances is not a good excuse for quitting >.> Just FYI to those who quit Scud Storm to join First Hour's team...Nameme is still the leader (Always will be unless he gives it to someone else) and the reason why he hasn't been on much is because his computer died and he is trying to fix it...

I agree with Mathk1ll here, however, Nameme99 hardly does work for AR let alone the other two mods he runs (Tiberian Wars - Renegade & Generals - Renegade) which has pretty much stopped because he's working for AR.

In the last two months the most he has done for AR is criticize other peoples work. Weather this be positive or negative he still doesn't have anything to show, after countless times of being told "Nameme, work on the harrier" he still offers his mind at engine experiment which is what we got BogdanV for or another field which we have another member to specialize in. I remember back in the old days of blazemods and source when he tried to take over my job of doing the internals, and we used to hate each other to the guts.

IMO, to any future mod devs out there. If you can't work, don't work. Also, do you research. See if there's already something out there you can use for free. Makes it easier and better on the individual and the team.

If you want to help out with the current mod team, show them some work of what you can do. If not, don't.

Leaders should have no other responsibilities other than to lead. He would be doing the right thing by "getting other people to make his mod for him."

Also, adding people to the ModDB "Team list" of your mod that haven't said they wanted to test or other stuff isn't right either. >.>

^^ I never asked/offered to be webmaster for you guys anyway... (Removed myself from your team because of that reason)

The excuse of "Oh, Scud Storm merged with us and we transfered members over" doesn't bid by me.

H0RQWER, don't keep instulting people, thats going to get you nowere! And he didnt ask to be on you're mod. Its really fucking unlucky that its going to be made anyway.

1 - You have no "special skill"

2 - There is already a Generals/ZH mod for renegade: Scud Storm.

3 - It's waaay to late to start a Total Conversion with you, by the time you get all the people you need with that attitude, Renegade will be dead, there will probably be another 3D C&C game, and everyone will go onto that.

4 - You can't SPELL!!!

i dont know how to spell because i still learn English I'm Russian so that is y and y are we making generals first hour if there is already scud storm because scud storm is already released so it is so ugly and i dont really like because it does not have all the things zh has so me and my friends wanted to improve scud storm but they did not let us then we said that we could make a mod called generals fist hour like a mod for scud storm but scud storm is a mod so we made the mod for renegade because scud storm was renegade mod so when we started to make the game the scud storm leaders and member got mad at us and they start to continue their mod too it is not fear to take ideas from other people i could make a mod that is not like zh maybe another strategy game but i dont have other strategy games so that is y so there started a fight i could say that i want to be a member of scud storm but i dont like their ideas that is y so i think we are going to make a mod like zh and improved things like mod packages more tanks new characters so when the scud storm and generals first hour will be released the people will even have fun player both of them because scud storm people have other ideas hove to make the mod and we are others too we will have modes for the mod like art of defence maps really cool ones and other ones that zh doest not have

i think SCUD STORM and GENERALS FIRST HOUR are going to be great mods i mean it and the thing i dont want people to talk about that there is already a mod for renegade that is like zh so dont make a copies

i will not like if people says that or other this like it it is so mean, i could say that i'm a scud storm fan but i dont like how people are fighting about the mods

Ever heard of punctuation? It exists even in Russia, and makes posts much more readable.
