I have $8000 saved for a down payment on the upcoming Chevrolet Camaro, which is ultimately more awesome than motherboards.

You are one lucky bastard. Convertable or coupe?

When are those things coming out btw? I thought they were 2008 models so I figured they would be out in summer of 07. I heard somewhere they were releasing them in the winter... Such a beautiful car and horrible release time!

I'm torn, to be honest. I'm not sure if I'd rather put extra money towards a rag-top, or towards some more juice. It'll depend on the engine/tranny options, and any possible kinks that come with new cars.

From what I understand, it'll be debuting in mid/late '08, right on time to compete with the Dodge Challenger, and refreshed Mustang. However, Lutz is pushing to get it out sooner, so we may get lucky.

lol. I know who you mean. She's from Texas or something, and has some bad case of superficial rebellion.

Plus, I'm at the top of the Google search, so for now, I'm the winner out of us.

To be fair, she looks more like the real Nikki Sixx than I do. I look more like Kip Winger.
